Foreword

For years we have been writing a continued book—a diary. We have included everything that has ever happened to us, or because of us. The beginning was long ago, and the end . . . well . . . no one knows.

We, the Mingo Chito staff, invite you to look into your 1964 diary. We have tried to include every memory of a wonderful year, a year which was unforgettable, a year which was ours.

The year had many aspects, each a product of the class it represented. To the Seniors it meant a finishing of one stage of life, a grasping of a goal long awaited; to the underclassmen it was one step more toward a search for their goal. The realization of a year that meant the same things in a different way to each student of YHS, will be unfolded in these pages of the Mingo Chito.

“The moving finger writes, and having writ moves on.”

1964 Dedication

The cheerful smile which is always there, the willingness to give of himself, and the joy he gets in helping others, characterizes our "Music Man." A veteran of many years in the musical field, Mr. Stanley C. Beers has worked hard to give to YHS a marching band, of which we can indeed be proud. His dedication to the service of others through the world of music, his capacity and enthusiasm for hard work have captured the hearts of this student body. Mr. Beers, head of our band department, is an exceptionally well-trained, talented, and experienced person, whose enthusiasm, knowledge, and qualities of leadership have been an inspiration to all of us.

His contributions to YHS campus life surely will be enduring. His ideals, always expressed quietly and unassumingly, are ones that students will long remember. For his complete selflessness, his sincere desire to help all students, and his genuine interest in his profession, we dedicate the 1964 Mingo Chito to you, Mr. Beers.

A man of unlimited talents, Mr. Beers gives of himself unceasingly to help others.

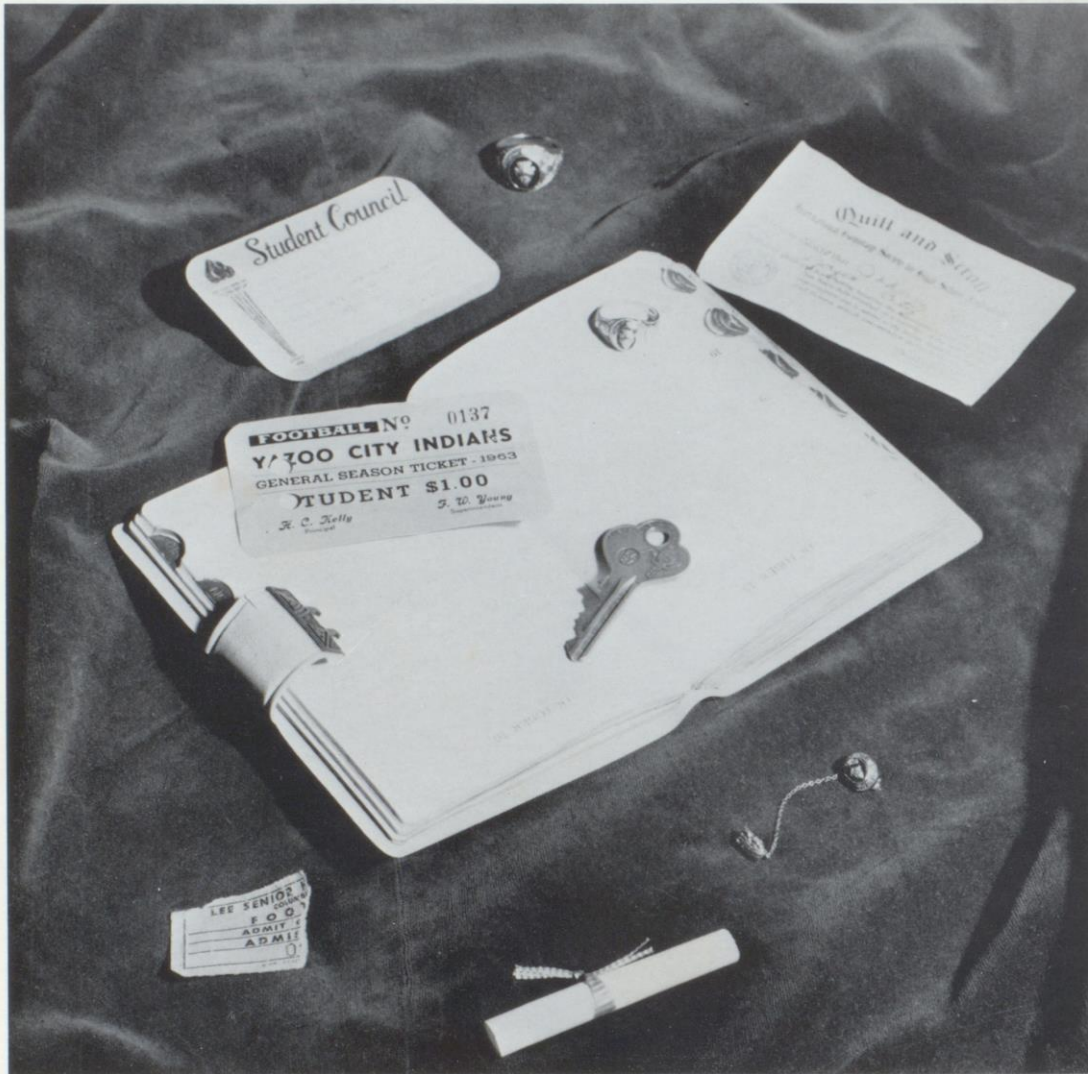

In his favorite chair, with his pipe and newspaper, Mr. Beers relaxes after a day of hard work.

Though "catchy" music is his work, catching fish seems to be his pleasure.

Aside from his other hobbies, Mr. Beers is an accomplished photographer.

Monday

Monday's refreshments after a tiring day at school. The first ones to the Tastee Freeze are always Butch Gary and Susann Dunwoody!

The student council was always eager to make new regulations. President Jimmy Elkins, with his dangerous weapon, the gavel, presided over each meeting. Everyone usually paid close attention, except J. W. Keathley, who was always looking at Varner Hines.

Monday is usually an experiment day for "Uncle George," who insists on fumigating the entire school with death defying hydrogen sulfide. If anyone happened to be asleep, this would surely awaken him.

One of the year's highlights was the Y-Club initiation, which began on Monday. This first day was always the worst—the worst smell, the worst looks, and the worst punishment!! Poor Buzz Morrow, who always laughed, always got the bad end of everything. David Hatchett may be little, but powerful—he could really swing that board!!

Mondays were blue, bad, and sometimes even sad, but never, never dull! There were always those little things just made to cheer one up—things that meant something to no one else but you!

Tuesday

A typical Tuesday night was spent thumbing through book after book searching frantically for material for our research theme—which always seemed to be due on Wednesday. It seemed as if Bobby DuBois and Patti Harrell spent half their time reading up on the latest jokes, while everyone else studied!

“Uncle George’s” capable Chemistry classes! They were always trying to discover a solution that they could use to blow up the school. Remember once when Bobby Jones and Mathew Smith almost succeeded? Poor Susie Nicholas and Frances Cooper even crawled under their desks they were so frightened!

Our dramatic club worked unceasingly to bring us the best entertainment ever! Jimmy Spears certainly stole the show in their last production—he also stole many young girls’ hearts that day! In this picture, it looks as if “lover” Jimmy has given Linda Carson up for another.

Wednesday

The Math Club, though one of the smallest clubs in our school, was one of the most successful. Bobby Jones and Charles Allen were always working hard at answering those difficult problems. When they thought they had the right answer, Bob Lester would come up with something to prove them wrong!!

It seems as if the Library Club was always promoting parties. The annual Teacher's Tea was really a big thing! Everyone seemed to enjoy it and worked hard to make it a smashing success—especially Mrs. Smith!

How could anyone forget those wonderful Wednesdays? So much happened! Remember, Christmas day came on Wednesday. This was quite an eventful thing! It snowed and we couldn't believe that we were actually having a White Christmas! However, snow didn't stop us from communicating with everyone to see what all Santa Claus brought! Varner Hines got a T-Bird! Butch Gary got a new bow! Bill Atkinson got a car! Poor Susann Dunwoody felt so left out—she only got a gold charm bracelet.

Then, of course, came New Year's Day, when everyone just lay around recuperating from a night of merry-making! Everyone spent New Year's Day watching his favorite football teams battling it out on television.

Ratted hair seemed to be the fad! Penny Woodell, and Dianne Tisdale set the style pace with their lovely bouffant hair-do's. It certainly was a lot of trouble ratted it all, wasn't it?

Thursday

"Open wide," says Sheila Allgood, as Barbara Knott takes a big bite out of a delicious apple from the Quik Serve.

1-2-3-4! Keep those hands higher!! Oh! Those terrible calisthenics were always so rough! We were always so sore the next day!

Look! We're all playing teacher! Jon Foose and Dennis Boyd direct attention to something that may be school work, or it may be "Beatle business." Faye and Leland seem to be impressed with their explanations.

Friday

Jimmy McKennon told the Miller's Tale in Mrs. Parker's Senior English class. He points to the fascinating wart which grew on his nose.

Friday's were always filled with excitement! On February 14, everyone anxiously awaited a valentine from his secret admirer! Of course, there was also the Senior Play that everyone enjoyed. Friday was always assembly day, with entertaining and educational programs. Remember the film on "Smoking and Cancer?" And Mr. Young's annual address to the Student Body? —How could you forget??

Among the most interesting assemblies this year was a speech given by Secretary of State Heber Ladner, the father of our own Miss Ladner. His talk was most inspiring and meant a great deal to every student.

Friday, November 22, will always be remembered in the hearts of every student at YHS. Though many disagreed with some of his ideas, people all over the world grieved at the tragic and untimely death of our great President, John F. Kennedy. This brave, young President left behind the country that he loved so much, and a people that he longed to help. Yes, Friday, November 22, 1964, became a special day for each of us at YHS.

Saturday

Pop corn, anyone? It's always a treat at the midnight show! Bobby Wayne DuBois can't seem to understand that Patti Harrell already has a box—she doesn't need another!

Steak? Pie? What shall we have. We can't make up our minds. Everette Beers, Ken Addington, Sheila Bland and Mike Highbaugh decided on a hamburger at the Circle.

Strike!! Hoo-ray! Bowling is the greatest of fun—good exercise too!

It's 7:15! No, I refuse to go—please, somebody help, Mother!! Remember when Lucy Vaughan and Laurie Thompson dragged us all out of our beds one Saturday morning to go to a "come as you are" breakfast? Oh, boy, did we ever look terrible!!

Please, "I Wanta Hold Your Hand!" Music, music, music—the sounds of dancing feet! Among the many dances held, the Y-Club was particularly enjoyed. Remember how Varner Hines refused to go up on the bandstand when they announced that she was Y-Club sweetheart? She thought they were playing a joke and refused to believe them.

Sunday

Relaxation at last! We always tried, but somehow there was homework to do or we just plain "goofed off!" After Sunday school and church we would hurry home and eat, so that we could "play" the rest of the day. We would go bowling, or ride around or even fly kites at the football field!

When the weather turned warmer we always got "Spring Fever" or was it "climbing fever." Nevertheless, we would always go hiking and explore "unknown" places! Bob Sherling and Larry Carter found bicycling to be a wonderful exercise—and fun too.

But of course, on bad days we managed to stay indoors and do homework or watch television.

Help, I'm falling! Remember when that certain group of Sophomores decided to fly a kite? There was just one problem—no wind! They were so bright that they decided to make their own. They all climbed into the car and two volunteers hung out the window. So off they flew with the kite soaring above them! However, they didn't count on it coming down while they were on the highway!!

Then there was Sunday night!! We all had to finish that homework and it took forever. We usually ended up calling twenty people before we found out what all our assignments were! No one ever seemed to know!! But we usually got things straight and with droopy eyes began our work.

Food! Food! I'm starving! Hurry or we'll be late for church! I'll have Lemon pie, please—I just love it!

One of the most beautiful churches in our city is the First Methodist. In 1904 fire destroyed the greatest part of Yazoo City including the original church. (Grandma remembers!) Services were held in the courthouse until the first unit of the new church was completed in 1906.

Yum! Yum! DoNuts!! Lemon, Cherry, Raspberry, Coccoanut—you name it, Shipley's has it!

Memo

"Beatlemania" has swept across the United States like wild fire! Students at YHS seemed to go all out! Jon Foose and Varner Hines were among the first to contract the disease.

Books! Books! Books! Who was the bright child who bumped into the shelf so hard and caused this disaster? Oh, Mrs. Smith was changing the library around.

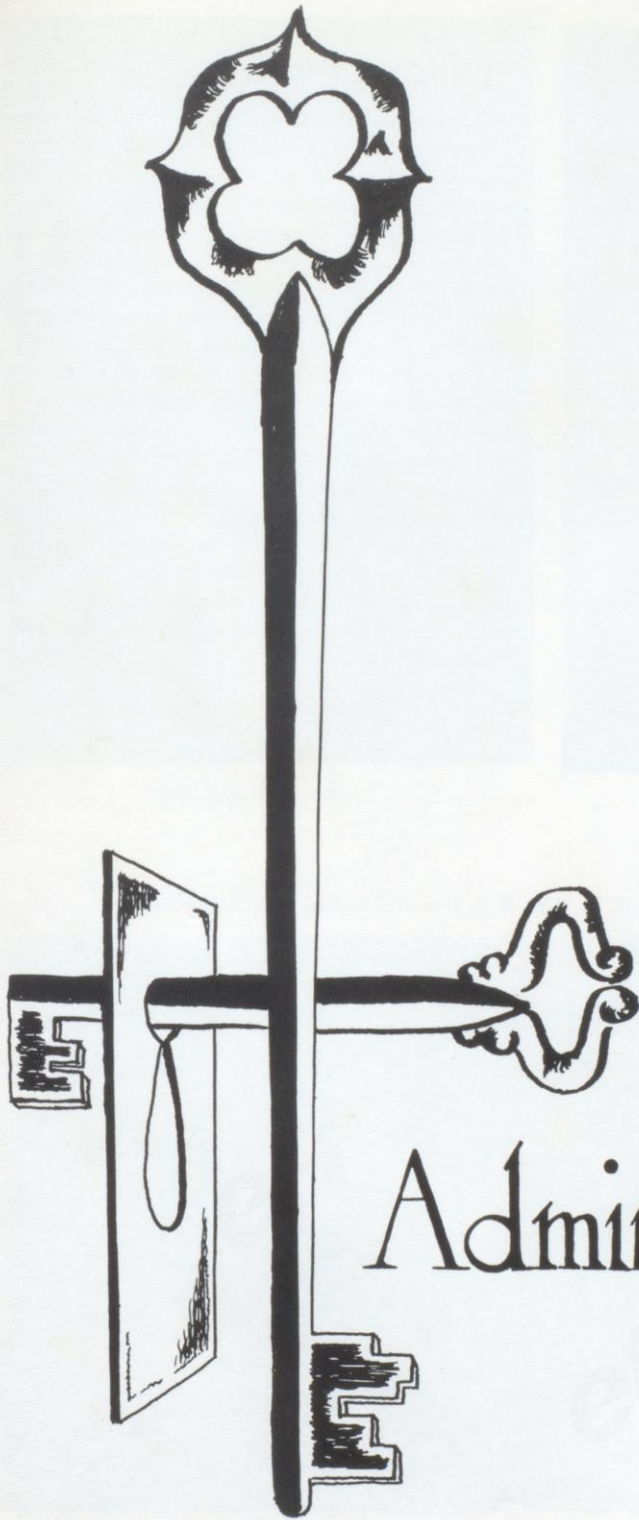

"Well, hello there!" says lovely Miss Sims. Oh, no!! It really isn't "Miss" Sims—it is actually Jim Simmons. This outfit was worn in a beauty contest sponsored by the March of Dimes.

Sabin Oral Sundays were a big success in Yazoo County. Our high school was one of the places where the new vaccine was given.

Administration

MR. FRED W. YOUNG, Superintendent

Administration

Respected, honored, and appreciated—these three adjectives sum up the feelings of all Yazooans for Superintendent Fred W. Young. His work for us cannot be accounted for in a few words; however, we recognize his effective, hard work as head administrator of the Yazoo City school system. As students leave YHS, they realize they are leaving one of their best friends, a man whose integrity, Christian ideals, and dedication cannot be equaled.

The task of supplying funds and directing the welfare of the school has been given to the school board. Mr. H. T. Barrier, a well known planter and business man; Mr. C. M. Dunn, cotton broker; Mr. Elbert D. Lott, prominent businessman; Mr. John S. Holmes, attorney; and Mr. John L. Graeber, co-owner and operator of the Graeber Brothers Ice Plant are the present members of this group. While looking over the past four years, students of YHS can gratefully acknowledge the excellent job these men have done.

BOARD MEMBERS: H. T. Barrier, C. M. Dunn, E. D. Lott, J. S. Holmes, and J. L. Graeber.

Principals and Counselors

MR. HAROLD C. KELLY

The principal of a high school must be a mediator between teachers, students, and parents. Smiling, genial Mr. Kelly has shown in his ten years at YHS that he can handle this job efficiently. Once a basketball coach, Mr. Kelly shows the affable traits usually attributed to an athlete plus the dignified, firm characteristics of a good school administrator.

Mr. Rush, coach, counselor, and assistant principal, plays a big part in the lives of all the students of Yazoo High. Preparation is the theme of his work, as he prepares pupils for tests, prepares them for choosing a college or job, and prepares them to meet the big, mean world through his confident sincere guidance.

As supervisor of instruction for the Yazoo City Public Schools, Miss Hattie Richardson has made herself invaluable. Because she is concerned with every child, she is always greeted with smiles and cheerful salutations in the halls of YHS, and throughout the school system.

MR. SABIN RUSH

MISS HATTIE RICHARDSON

English

MR. WALLACE E. HOFFMAN

B.A., MSCW, Millsaps, Univ. of Miss.

MR. LINFIELD MILLER
English
B.A., M.C., M.A., Millsaps

MRS. J. W. PARKER
English
M.A., Miss. College

MISS JULIA PIATT
Speech and English
B.S., MSCW

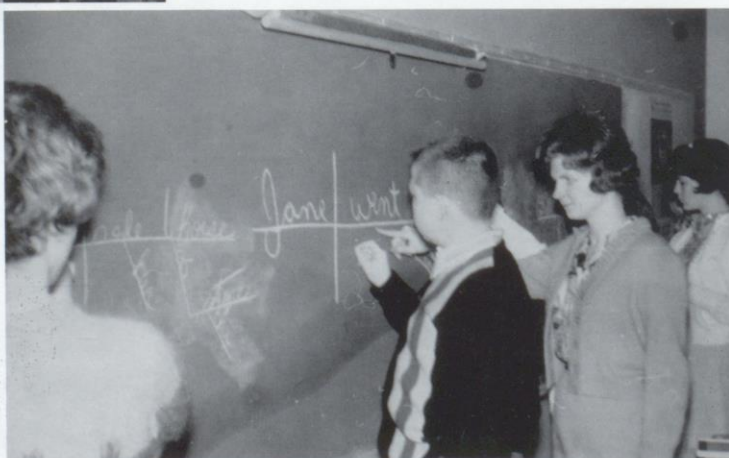

"Inside there are seats," explains Bebo during one of Mrs. Parker's English classes. This model of a Shakespearean theater is used to help students understand the production of Shakespeare's dramas.

"Don't forget to add the adverb," Miss Ladner points out to Charlie Wright who is busy diagramming English sentences. As the student progresses, a new form of parsing is used. Until that day these Freshmen will draw their diagrams diligently.

Literature was the paramount interest of the English classes this year. The ever prevalent classics David Copperfield, Jane Eyre, and The Tale of Two Cities were once again on the agenda. "Romeo and Juliet" was added as a new experience, and students at least gained a little culture.

YHS pupils once again tried to comprehend the value of good English. The exposure of students to good literature resulted in appreciation of the advantages that can be gained, such as a learned vocabulary and simple enjoyment. Eloquent language requires more than literature alone, thus making knowledge of verbs invaluable.

Languages

DR. GUSTAVO GARCIA, Spanish, Junior and Senior High—Law degree, Havana University

MRS. ELEANOR LESTER, Latin, Spanish, and Social Science, B.A., Millsaps College

The study of a Foreign language as a major, or minor interest, offers vast opportunities in a world in which the linguist will gain foremost recognition.

Preparing himself for the career of his choice, today's student will discover that to be completely successful in this vocation, the study of a foreign language is almost always expedient if not compulsory.

Yazoo City High School has provided for efficient language study through the investment of a modern well-equipped Spanish Laboratory, and skilled instructors.

"My son brought this statue of Romulus and Remus back to me from Rome," boasts Mrs. Lester to Fran. "Well, my sister gave me mine," replies Fran.

Are the boys listening to another Spanish tape or are they listening to one of the Doctor's Spanish records? The earphones and speakers provide students at YHS an opportunity to become first rate linguists.

Latin Slaves on one side and masters on the other. The annual tradition of a Latin Banquet and initiation day was received this year. King Lonnie Graeber and Queen Sara Alice Fleming reigned over the festivities.

Science

MRS. NETTIE FERRIS—Science, B.S., Belhaven College

MR. GEORGE RICHARDSON—Chemistry, Physics; Masters, Graduate work, Univ. of Mississippi, Univ. of Utah

MRS. NAOMI D. ROBERDS, Biology, B.S., MSCW

"Is this wiggly creature with the green spot an Euglena or an Amoeba?" De Graeber, a fortunate biologist, was able to use one of the electric microscopes in the lab.

There are many advantages for scientifically minded students to advance in their chosen field at Yazoo High. Courses range from general science to the highly complex courses of biology, chemistry, and physics.

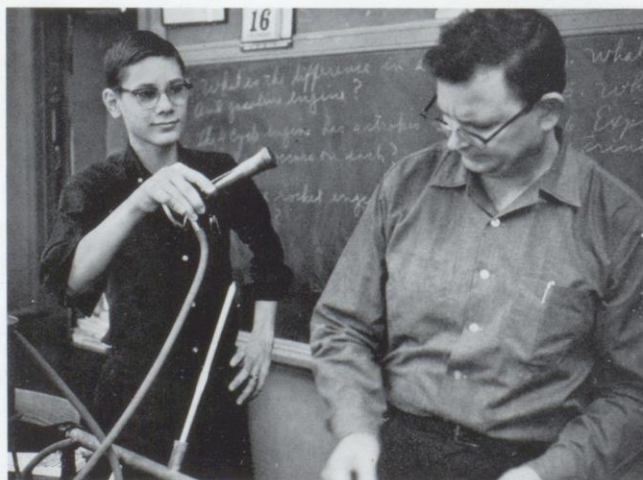

In general science the freshmen and sophomores cover the exciting field of science, from what makes a tree grow to how an engine runs.

The biology classes are undertaking unforgettable experiments and investigations in their observation and dissecting.

Unearthly smells have begun to creep from the chemistry lab as the pupils become carried away in their combining of the 101 chemical elements. They have by now realized that their experiments sometimes end in unbelievable surprises.

The physics classes concentrate on the science of matter and energy. They have had some lively class discussions and many interesting speakers.

Besides these courses the students have a chance to enjoy many other fields of science that one would want to work in, including our famous science club.

"Don't you know better than to point that burner at me!" shouts "Uncle George" to one of his most "dangerous" physics students, David James. Chemistry students had their first experiences with bunsen burners when they conducted lab experiments.

Mathematics

MR. KENNETH W. BUCKLEY, Mathematics and Counselor, M.A., Miss. Southern

MRS. GEORGE CLARK, Mathematics, B.A., Longwood, Virginia

MR. LESLIE C. CLARK, Mathematics and Coach, B.S., Miss. Southern

MRS. H. E. WATSON, B.S., Millsaps College, Mathematics

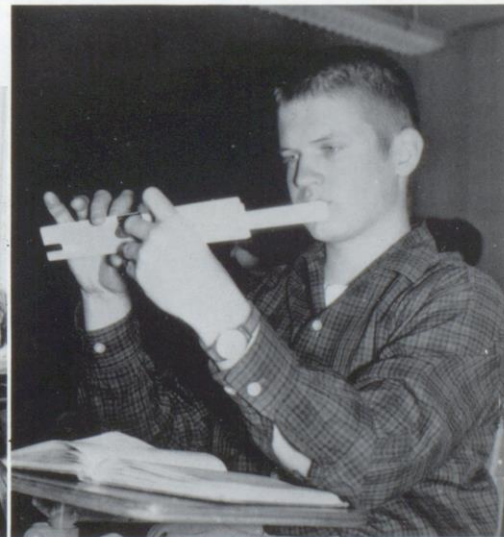

Junior Ben Darby, Sophomore Betty Mood, and Freshman Jerry Davis seem to be spending their recess studying. Since one can't accomplish much at recess these three soon learned to do their homework at home.

Students at YHS realize the importance of obtaining a substantial background in modern math. The courses offered here range from general math to second year algebra. Our program provides strong foundations in the processes which are fundamental to our modern scientific, commercial, industrial, and social systems. In all of the math courses we are instructed by competent teachers. Math continues to be stressed as basic to the improvement of modern civilization.

Has Johnny mastered the art of reading the slide rule? Let's hope so! It's really funny to see these Juniors failing tests because they used a slide rule for their answers and didn't know how to use them.

While Mrs. Watson reviews the grades on report cards the girls proudly compare A's and B's. The looks of the boys show utter amazement and despair.

Social Studies

MR. BILL DAVIDSON, Social Studies, B.A., LL.B., Univ. of Texas

MISS MARGARET HESTER, Social Science, History, Counselor, and Coach, B.A., MSCW

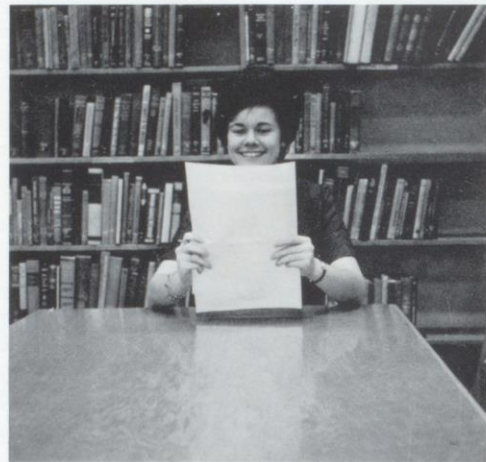

MR. DeWITT MASSEY, History and Social Science, M.A., Miss. College

MRS. C. D. WILLIAMS, History, B.A., Blue Mountain, Graduate Study, Univ. of Alabama

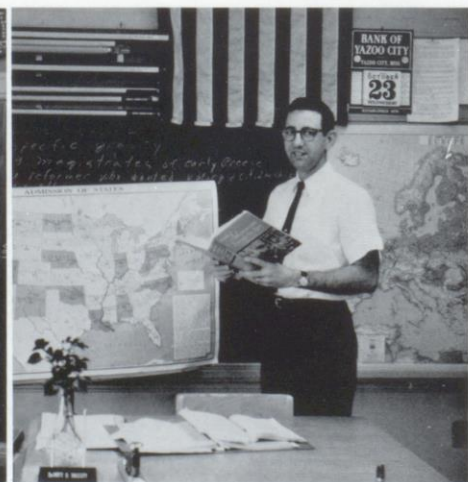

The principles of our country and others were impressed in the minds of YHS students through the various fields of social studies. In the student's freshman year, he studied Mississippi history and civics. In American history, the students began their study with Lief Ericson and continued to present events in order to learn more about America and her relation with other countries. World history, economics, and government were choices of the upperclassmen. A YHS graduate has the opportunity to learn about the past and present of our state, nation, and world through these six fields of social studies.

Miss Hester goes over the duties of sheriff with Wayne Finley, Susie Nicholas and Haley Barbour, County Government candidates. During the first semester, students participate in an election of county and city officers who will attend County Government day.

"Ah ha, another perfect paper. I must really be a good teacher." Miss Gandy, a mid-term addition to the faculty, brought more pep and sparkle into the halls of YHS.

"I certainly don't think I'll ever be in need of another map," declares Mr. Massey in the midst of a discussion of Europe and the USA.

Music

MR. S. C. BEERS, B.A., Hendrix College, Ark., Band Director, Jr. and Sr. High School

MISS BERNICE GAY, B.M., M.M., Med., Belhaven, Peabody, LSU, Public School Music and Choral Director

MR. DONALD VAUGHAN, Assistant Band Director, U.M., M. of Music, Memphis State

This must be ensemble practice. Miss Gay and her choruses practice diligently for their programs which are enjoyed by every student.

Music at YHS is enjoyed by many of her students. Besides public school music, which is taken by freshmen, a 65-strong mixed chorus and a superior band are available to students of our School.

Miss Bernice Gay ably led the Mixed Chorus, Girls' Ensemble, and the Girls' Sextet. Early in April the Chorus attended the District Festival and later the State Festival where they received an excellent plus rating.

The band under the direction of Mr. Beers and Mr. Vaughan performed beautifully this year. Those talented musicians who were interested tried out for Lions All State and went to the state solo and ensemble contest. The stage band lifted the spirits of everyone with their rhythm and jazz.

"Lift your elbow a little," Mr. Vaughan, tells Barbara Kelly during afternoon session. As assistant band director, Mr. Vaughan finds his work cut out for him.

"Flutes ready?" Whatever the band is practicing for, you can be assured it will be top-notch.

Commerce

MISS LOUISE
HENDRIX
Shorthand, Typewriting, Sec. training. MSCW, B.S.

MISS DOROTHY
MITCHELL
Bookkeeping, Business Eng., Business Training, Typewrit-
ing. Miss. Delta,
A.A., Delta State,
B.S. in Ed., U.M.,
M.B.E.

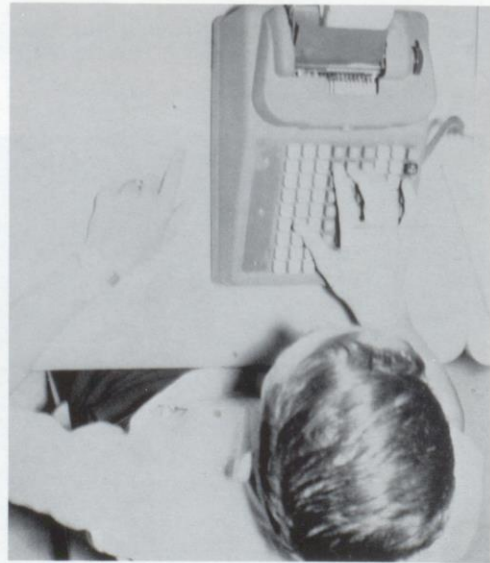

The Commercial Department of YHS during 1963-64 proved to be a big success in the training of students for commercial business. Even though some of the students will not actually go into commercial business, they were taught the various subjects of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, secretarial training, business English, and business training.

Perhaps the five minute timings and tabulation problems in the typewriting classes taught by Miss Louise Hendrix and Miss Dorothy Mitchell will bring back memories of hours of adding, subtracting, and dividing only to have the whole thing wrong. Transcriptions in shorthand and practice sets in bookkeeping sometimes discouraged the want-to-be-perfect students into incessant indolence. After a year of hard, tedious work, many of the eager students showed their interest by applying for positions in business.

O.K., Hugh Nelson, flipping back for answers won't get the job done.

Having a practice teacher like Buddy Upchurch was so exciting that Jane Beale couldn't possibly make a timed writing. Every time he spoke she made a mistake.

Tap, tap, tap. Bookkeeping requires accurate use of the adding machine, and a swift finger as the one Ricky Carson has.

Home Economics

MRS. RALPH C. HUNT
Homemaking
MSCW, B.A.

One of the most meaningful and useful courses that is offered at YHS is that of home economics. Girls taking this course not only study the values of being an efficient housekeeper, but learn such arts as dressing smartly and improving one's personality.

Laying and cutting a pattern were tedious tasks that preceded the sewing session. Altering a garment for perfect fit was made easier when using the full length mirrors in the fitting room.

Cooking brought delicious aromas through the halls of YHS. The joy of eating the food prepared by home ec girls was always marred by the thought of unwashed dishes.

Planning budgets, furniture arrangements and work schedules were skills the students acquired during the year. With this training the girls no doubt will appreciate their present home more and be successful homemakers in later years.

This method surely does beat the clothesline. The home-making class experienced a year of leisure with the newly installed washer and dryer. Even Miss Hester used it to clean her basketball socks.

"Where shall I put my bed?" is the query of Carol Wilkinson. Teresa Jennings ponders before she answers. House planning is only a part of the many phases of homemaking, but a very valuable art for a young housekeeper.

"How do you like my suit?" asks Nelda Dangelo. All four girls made their outfits and are modeling them before the FHA Club. Who knows, we may have the "best dressed women" of the United States in our midst.

Vocational and Industrial Arts

Kenneth Woodruff hopes that his figuring was right as he finishes up his latest model of a what-ya-call it.

MR. A. L. BOND
Diversified Occupations and Distributive Education, M.Ed., Miss.
State

MR. BOBBY G. TOWERY
Industrial Arts and Mechanical Drawing, Jr. and Sr. High School,
B.S., Miss. State Univ.

Diversified Occupation and Mechanical Drawing classes provide the student with an education to help him after graduation from high school. Diversified occupation offers education designed* to help a person enter into and make progress in the fields of advertising, marketing, and distribution of goods and services, and in occupations that involves producing, manufacturing, assembling, and repairing of goods or services.

Mechanical drawing classes aid students who plan to enter the profession of commercial art, drafting, and engineering.

Mr. Bond lends a helping hand to Betty Monday and Janell Kight as they labor over a problem in vocation.

Practice teacher, Scottie Taylor aids young boys in the art of sawing a block of wood. "Watch those fingers!"

Physical Education and Drivers Training

ED CASTLES
Social Science and Coach, B.S., Mississippi College, M.A.,
U.S.M.

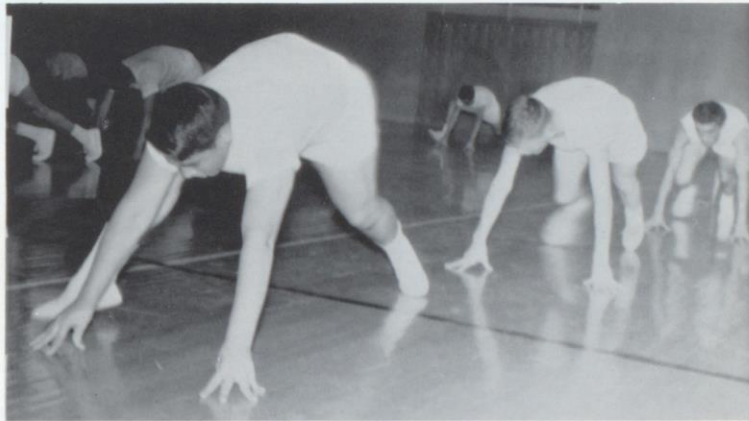

E. S. JENKINS
Athletic Director,
Coach and Driver
Training, M.A. in Phys. Ed., Univ. of Miss.

The students in physical education have been enjoying a year of fun as well as healthful activity. The P.E. teacher, Coach Ed Castles, also coaches basketball and baseball. Coach Castles has been very interested in teaching his students the fundamentals of basketball, and at every session the students go through drills which have given way to steady improvement.

The year has been packed with surprises: the girls enjoyed sessions of dancing during the early part of the year; the boys and girls held a free-throw tournament, and all were able to try their hand at ping-pong.

"Just nine more times and I'll be through," breathless Charles Hasin moans as he endeavors to get through the last of Coach Castles' "easy" drills.

"Hurry up and start the music," says Phyllis Moss, "before I forget what to do next." The P.E. girls learned square dances galore; keeping them separated was quite a chore.

"Now, Allan," Coach Jenkins says patiently, "let's see if we can't get between the stick posts this time." Driver training is offered to all sophomore students who wish to learn the safe way of driving. Under the watchful eye of Coach Jenkins the students are instructed in all fundamentals of safety.

Library

MRS. MARY EMMA SMITH
Librarian
B.A., M.S.C.W.

The Library is one of the most important and frequented rooms in YHS. Each day a steady stream of inquisitive students pour through its doors in search of an answer. At hand is an extensive collection of all materials needed for essays, term papers, speeches, and themes.

"Keep looking, you'll find it." The reserve books, kept behind the desk are always being used by ambitious English and History students.

"Oh, these books are heavy," moans Harriet Collins as she mounts the steps to Rick's Memorial Library. Many hours are spent here looking and gathering much needed information for school papers.

"Before I start on this American Heritage, I think I'll read the funnies," muses Dianne Hassin as she finds enjoyment from the material available in the YHS library.

"Scarlet O'Hara, you were great! Tom and Huck, you were clever too." The library club entertained the student body with a play about familiar books during National Book Week.

Mrs. Edna M. Brooks
Mrs. Dorris T. Caperton
Mrs. H. G. Hairston
Mrs. Rosa Harrison

Mrs. Carolyn Johnson
Mrs. J. T. Ketchum
Mrs. R. B. Simmons

As executive secretary to Mr. Fred Young, superintendent, Mrs. Wes Caperton has endeared herself to the students and teachers at YHS these past seven years. Mrs. J. H. Brooks, also a secretary to Mr. Young, enjoys the outdoor sport of baseball after office hours.

Most efficient in her responsibilities to Mr. Kelly is Mrs. Carolyn Johnson, Mrs. Johnson has become a "secretary of all trades" for students and faculty.

Mrs. H. G. Hairston sees that the Yazoo City schools get excellent food in their cafeterias. At YHS she is assisted in this task by Mrs. F. N. Harrison, Mrs. Ketchum, and Mrs. Simmons.

"We've got some more money for you, Mrs. Johnson." This is the familiar cry Mrs. Johnson hears whenever students at YHS take up money.

Don't push, Lucy! Tish, there's plenty for all. Camie's in a rush to get out the milk. This picture portrays another busy day in the cafeteria of YHS.

Hobbies

Could the dancers in this chorus line be our teachers?

It's no secret that these darling grandchildren find themselves in Mrs. Williams' company whenever she has a minute to spare.

On Thursday nights Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Roberds put aside all school work and concentrate on a bridge game.

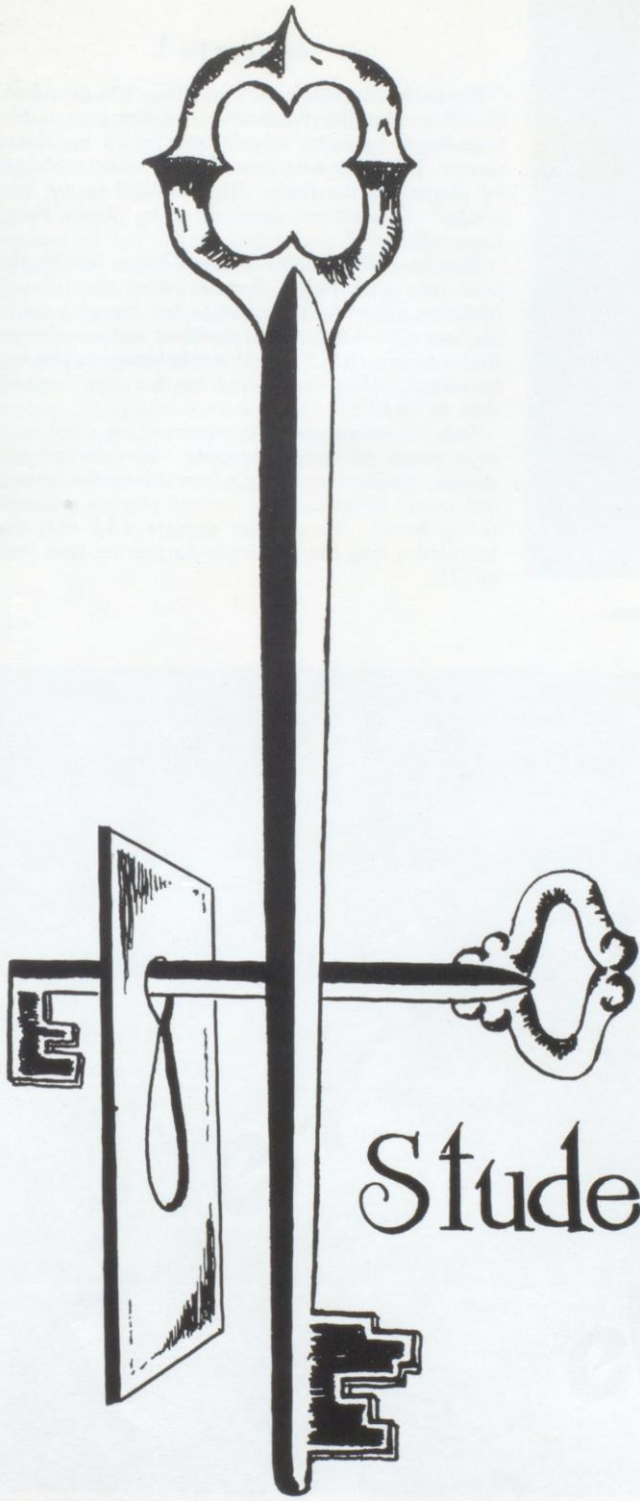

To help show you students that our teachers are not a separate species but are human beings with interests and pleasures like you yourselves, we are presenting a page which we devoted to the outside activities of our beloved teachers.

Since the '63-'64 school term was the first experience with practice teachers for YHS, our veteran teachers took their first well deserved rest. Practice teachers Dotty Akin, Billie Fay Maddux, Bill Albert, Marlin Dellenger, Scott HemLeBen, and George Bolton seemed to enjoy their experience.

Out on the farm, Mrs. Smith rates first place as a pitcher.

Student Body

Anxiously adapting, merrily inclined, and persistently prodded,

Cameron Chapman, Jim Simmons, Mary Ann Pinson.

Officers

Elected to the office of Freshman class president this year was Jim Simmons. Jim has proven his friendliness by being elected favorite by his classmates. He displayed some of his athletic ability by playing on the Junior High football team. Jim is also well-known in baseball as he played Pony League ball.

Cute and jolly Bonnie Johnson began her Freshman year with bang. Bonnie added the title of freshman class vice-president to her list of honors. She was elected homeroom president and was chosen freshman favorite. Some of her hobbies are playing basketball, riding horses and has her own football team 'in Eden!

Cam Chapman, secretary of our class, displays a wide range of varied interests. She showed her athletic qualities by being a forward on the basketball team. Other hobbies include playing golf and riding horses. Though she appears a bit shy, she acquired a long list of friends during her first year at YHS.

Favorites

Vivacious Mary Ann Pinson, our Freshman favorite, exemplifies a model first year student. With her sweet smile and friendly attitude, Mary Ann began the year right by being elected Miss Yazoo City in our annual beauty contest. She helped to boost school spirit by being in the Pep Squad. Because of her charm and grace, Mary Ann was featured as a beauty in the Who's Who. She has already acclaimed wide fame at our high school.

Jim Simmons, who was our Freshman president, was also chosen as Freshman favorite. He displays his ability as an athlete by his outstanding work on the Junior High football team. Jim took an earnest and sincere attitude in his school work and was very active in many school organizations. His winning smile and pleasing personality won Jim a long list of friends and a long career at Yazoo High School.

After many hours of studious effort, the greenest of the green

High school was a blast our first year! The first days were rather hectic though. Of course, we all felt like dirt under the upperclassmen's feet! But I suppose that's all a part of being freshmen. The Yazooan even wrote articles about how "green" we were! Truett Duncan actually found them amusing!

The first days were filled with hurrying from class to class so that we wouldn't be late, usually finding that we had the wrong books. We were so tired of being trampled on by "the privileged ones" that by the time Christmas holidays approached, we were ready for them!

When exam time came, we had all been relaxed and made ready by the holidays! Then came the test days—we found ourselves not as ready as we had anticipated!

Remember how Marian Fitzhugh was always going to the wrong history class? Well, even after one whole semester he sometimes still does it! Yes, life as a freshman was sometimes unbearable, but as a whole, it was filled with many new experiences and much excitement. From beginning to end, there were classes, sports, new friends, grades and waiting for the 3:45 bell to ring!

John Kirk, Byron Seward, David Roberts.

Officers

Versatile Byron Seward won the favor of his classmates by being elected president of the sophomore class. He was also elected president of his homeroom. Byron has been an active member of the Freshman-Sophomore Hi-Y Club for two years. He also exemplifies his interest in sports by participating in football.

The Sophomores' choice for the office of vice-president was David Roberts. David certainly proved to his classmates his ability as a leader when he was elected president of the Freshman-Sophomore Hi-Y Club. An outstanding athlete, David played end on the varsity football team and center on the B-team basketball squad.

Secretary-treasurer John Kirk has aided his fellow officers in leading the class to a most rewarding school year. He also has showed his reliability by serving as an officer of the Freshman-Sophomore Hi-Y Club and his homeroom. In sports, John was at his best. He was a most active participant on both the football and basketball teams at YHS.

Byron Seward, our sophomore president, was also chosen for his friendly smile as a class favorite. In the ninth grade, Byron was a member of the junior high football team and was this year a member of the high school team. Although he was interested in several hobbies and sports, he has managed to make exceptionally high grades in all his studies. Byron has been a most active member of the First Presbyterian Church and a participant in many church activities.

Friendly and capable Rosemary Sudduth certainly has proved to be a favorite among all the Sophomores. Chosen as Sophomore football maid for homecoming, "Rosie" well represented all who elected her. Rosemary has been a member of the Girls' Ensemble for the past two years. During her freshman year she was especially busy as a member of the Student Council. With her radiant smile and friendly personality Rosemary certainly has added much to YHS.

It's hard to believe! No longer are we the bewildered freshmen of YHS, but now, we're boisterous Sophs! Remember in 1962, we were on top of the world. We could push those younger students around and do as we pretty well pleased, for we were "big 8th-graders." But then, our magic bubble burst, and we were dropped to earth like lead balloons. No longer could we push those underclassmen around, for we had become "green freshmen" of high school, finding ourselves trampled on by those wild upperclassmen. That year rumbled by like a freight train and suddenly we were on our way up higher and higher, back to our bubble.

In our Sophomore year at YHS we accomplished much. One of the most important events was getting your driver's license. This event was only one of the many that made our year the best ever. As Juniors and Seniors, we will go beyond all expectations.

Santa Claus certainly didn't forget us Sophs. Ben Newton mailed his letter early.

As sophomores, we have accomplished much as part of the student body. We frowned upon the "greenest" of the freshmen, laughed at the joviality of the juniors, and gazed longingly at the seriousness of the seniors.

Oh, those midterm and final exams! They were the hardest ever. Success was and is our goal. We lived well, laughed often, and loved much; we gained the respect of our teachers and the love of our fellow students. The Sophomore class of '64 surely had the best of everything—at least that's what the "sophs" thought!

Debbie Nelson applies the knowledge she gained from Library Science as she checks out books for Dennie Paul and Benny Rose.

Responsible Juniors contribute to Yazoo's heritage by rendering diligent Tommy Raggett, Mary Lee Anderson, Richard Murphy.

Officers

Moving to Yazoo City shortly before his sophomore year, Tommy Raggett immediately gained much favor among his classmates and became president of the Junior class. He showed athletic ability by participating on the track team. His classmates showed their confidence in his ability as a leader by electing him to the student council.

Richard Murphy, a favorite figure around Yazoo High, has again portrayed his popularity by being elected Vice-President of the Junior class. He illustrates his athletic abilities by being a two-year letterman on the varsity football team. "Bear," as he is often called by his classmates, showed his leadership qualities by being elected to the Student Council.

Mary Lee Anderson, Junior class secretary-treasurer, has worked on the school paper and has been a member of the Safety Club. She has displayed traits of cooperativeness and leadership of her three years of high school. Mary Lee was elected a beauty in Who's Who at YHS.

Favorites

The Junior class favorite, Wayne Finley, is known for his friendliness and good spirit during work or play. He has proved himself on the athletic field by lettering in football for the past two gridiron seasons. Wayne's sunny personality and immense popularity have won for him many honors. Among his most coveted honors are his election as Sheriff of County Government Day, membership in the Safety and Y-Clubs and his selection as a homeroom officer every year at YHS.

Vivacious Mary Lee Anderson has, in her three years at YHS, been a credit to our school life. She has added much to our school spirit by serving as a varsity cheerleader for two years. During her sophomore year, she was selected homecoming maid and in her junior year she reigned as queen of the homecoming court. A prettier and more elegant queen YHS has never seen. She has showed her versatility by playing guard on the basketball team, where she has assumed her responsibility well.

To get us off to a good start our leaders had to be quite smart.

Varner Hines, Bob Sherling, and Jon Foose.

Officers

Serving as president, Jon Foose, revealed his ability in the field of leadership to the class in his junior year as vice-president. Having been a football manager for three years, Jon was promoted this year to the duty of head manager. He has also been president of the science club and a member of the Y-Club.

"Veep" Bob Sherling, another well-known figure, has been a big participant in school life since entering high school. Bob maintained an average above 85, which enabled him to qualify for the S-Club all four years. His continuance in the S-Club, while playing both football and basketball awarded him membership in the National Athletic Honor Society.

An individual most familiar with her job is secretary Varner Hines. She has served in this capacity for her homeroom, for her class, for the Yazooan Club and is now serving as secretary-treasurer for the Student Council. Besides these abilities, Varner has been in Who's Who, has been a Rotary guest, football maid, and has exercised other talents as a B-Team cheerleader.

Leslie Metcalfe and Varner Hines

Favorites

Active in every phase of school life, Varner Hines again claims the spotlight, as she accepts the honor of class favorite. This girl with a happy-go-lucky personality recently represented the Women's Division of the United Givers in the annual drive. A celebrity with her own radio program, she informs the town as to past, present and future activities at YHS each Thursday afternoon.

Sharing the spotlight of class favorite with Varner is Leslie Metcalfe. Leslie, a crew-cut blonde much sought since "way back when," played first string fullback on the varsity football team this past season. Having received the Best Blocker and Tackler Award at the touchdown banquet, this handsome individual was selected Mr. YHS and Friendliest Boy by the student body in the November Who's Who election. Leslie is also a Beau, as any observant young lady can see.

Many thoughts passed through the minds of the seniors as they were measured for their caps and gowns. Remembered incidents of their green days, new at Y.H.S., stumbling blindly through the halls, frantically searching for the correct classroom—all these rose anew before their mind's eye. Not so green but almost as silly, they progressed to the sophomore stage, struggling to know their teachers well enough to rate an "A" and still not be labeled an egghead. On becoming juniors, these students realized how far they had come on the road of education and felt secure enough to be able to glance around at the new freshmen with eyes of sympathy and understanding. And finally reaching that stage so often dreamed of and talked about—their senior year. This was a year of joy, of sadness, of smiles, of tears, a year to be remembered, when fingering the apparel that would end an episode in life.

"What do you see, huh! What's in there?" "I'll bet that's the trouble, that little gadget!" exclaims Jimmy Elkin, as he points it out to the interested girls. Taking advantage of their privilege to sit in cars, these seniors decided to investigate the workings of "Elmo," an honorary senior belonging to Macy Satterfield. Looking bewildered at the whole process which she had always taken for granted, Anne Phillips decided she would just sit atop the car and leave the mechanics to more qualified persons.

Being a senior is a wonderful experience, unique in many ways, common in others. One of the privileges that seniors enjoy, perhaps the one most often exercised, is that of "coke breaks" during their vacant periods. Here one may observe several of these "privileged characters" pausing for a few minutes from their active academic life (among other things) for a bit of refreshment and a glance at the "trials and tribulations" of the frustrated underclassmen.

A senior privilege which, though it could only be exercised for a few months in the early fall, was one that the participants most enjoyed; the making of footballs to help finance the annual senior trip. Each Thursday night at approximately seven o'clock a multitude of amateur artists descended upon some unlucky volunteer's humble abode to create their masterpieces. At this particular session Bob Lester seemed to be quite surprised at being caught admiring one of the completed footballs; while John Tinnin apparently thought that if he concentrates with enough intensity, the photographer will vanish.

"Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil," seems to be what Hannibal, Fairy and Jeff are telling the other members of the cast in this scene.

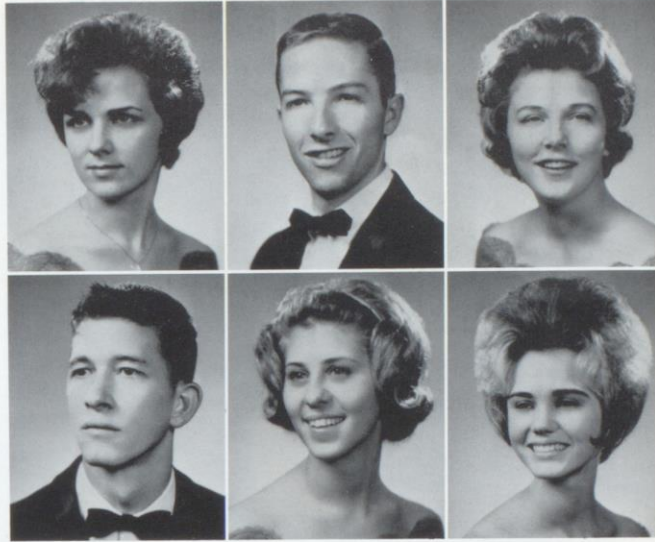

Hannibal has his talent, Jeff his self-confidence, Florence her John Thomas, Fairy her beauty and Mrs. Paddy her painting, as all their dreams come true in the last scene.

Directed by Miss Julia Piatt, "The Curious Savage" was presented starring Ruth Miller as Mrs. Savage. Playing her daughter LilliBelle was Anne Phillips; her son Titus was Gerald Moses, and her other son Samuel was Butch Gary. The inmates of the rest home included Fairy Mae, Patti Harrell; Florence, Varner Hines; Mrs. Paddy, Rose Thomas; Hannibal, Leslie Metcalfe; and Jeff, Bob Sherling. Doctor Emmitt was Johnny Fraiser and Miss Willie, the nurse, was Susann Dunwoody.

Our Senior Trip

Well, girls, don't just sit there!

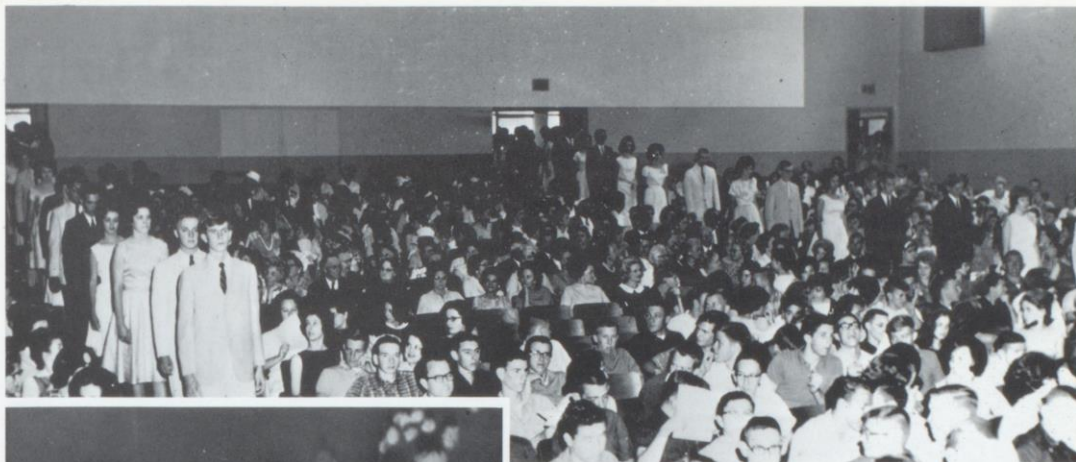

Ah . . . sleep at last.

Recalling the past, expecting the future, we enjoyed Class Day.

"Pomp and Circumstance"

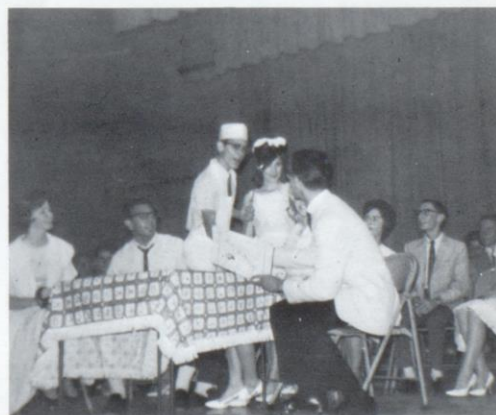

"Deen! I don't believe it!"

"Why, Kenneth Addington . . .!"

"Martha, here's a rolling pin."

Hardly believing it was true, we sat in a daze the program thru!

Howard Cleland, president of Belhaven College, inspired the graduates with the necessity of "putting first things first."

Graduation Night

Meanwhile, back in the bandroom, the seniors were bidding sad farewells.

A typical recipient of a 1964 diploma was Jordan Whitfield Keathley.

Long awaited, finally achieved, with diplomas we took our leave.

President Jon Foose presented the class memorial, a bookcase filled with a set of great books, to Junior Class President Tommy Raggett.

Honor Grads

Sixteen seniors who held a continual "A" average during their four years at YHS were graduated cum laude.

"Resolve: Social security should be extended to include complete medical care." The affirmative duo Macy Satterfield and Sheila Bland, ardently supported by Jimmy Spears, presented infallible plans in the invitational debates sponsored by Vicksburg and Hattiesburg where they received a superior rating. The negative, Jo Reeves and Winnie Wilson backed by Tony Mefford, contested the affirmative's suppositions with inflexible arguments.

In the District Debate tournament at Mississippi College, the YHS debating quartet placed second and in the Regional competition the team was rated excellent.

Two years ago, YHS's homeroom vice-presidents joined together to form a school advancement group known as the Safety Club. The club brings forth ideas, of school, and comes out in favor of the new school policies and against old ones needing change. The showing of the film, "Smoking and its Effects on Health," was the beginning of many activities of the Safety Club.

In December the members went to the District Safety Conference in Goodman, where they learned of the activities of other Safety Clubs and also new ways to promote safety.

EDITORS Tommy Teaster and Ruth Miller confer with BUSINESS MANAGERS William Coody and Johnny Fraiser while Mrs. Watson looks on.

"All American or Bust" vows every member of the Mingo Chito staff. Last year we lacked 85 points out of the required 6,000, but this year we hope to acquire the necessary number.

Tears and happiness accompanied the last shipment of the Mingo Chito. Deadlines had been met and another hectic year was between covers. This year the members of the staff have worked extra hard striving to make this annual the best ever. Pages had been drawn and redrawn until perfection seemed impossible! The faces of people agonized the slumbering class editor, while the typists saw big black bold letters all night.

Gripes are heard, but are soon forgotten because many a happy time comes while working on the annual.

During 7th period editor Ruth Miller and some of her co-workers did a multitude of jobs not done during the weekly club meetings in order that deadlines be met. The hard-working journalists sacrificed their much needed study time to complete a book of accurately recorded events in 1963-64.

Smith's cagy "sparkies" out maneuvered all homerooms to be first to get 100% in the Mingo Chito's subscription drive. After drawing the names of two staff members, Tommy Teaster, Smith's homeroom President, draws the name of Susann Dunwoody who will be the lucky recipient of the free Mingo Chito.

THE YAZOOAN gives a monthly report of the facts and features that keep the student up-to-date in the busy whirl of school life. Through the school paper, the aspiring staff publicized the many activities of YHS and the surrounding community. Opinions on timely subjects were expressed through editorials.

Meeting deadlines on time is the principal thought in the minds of staff and club members. It is their job to fill each page with news and interesting tidbits. Getting out the paper requires many long hours and late nights, but the members do not really mind because, when the ratings come in, THE YAZOOAN is always on top of the list. Among their top honors are first class honor rating in the National Press and in Quill and Scroll, Most Outstanding Paper at Ole Miss Press Institute, and Medalist winner from Columbia Press. The mailing list of THE YAZOOAN is long because of their exchange with publications from all over the country.

Mr. Miller and the officers of the Writers' Club leisurely enjoy a coke while presiding during the club's weekly meeting.

Grind, grind, grind goes the pencil sharpener, and another Writers' Club member moans. Writing a poem is no easy task and many of the members wished that they could stick their heads in the pencil sharpener to sharpen their wits. Poems were not the only things written by these ingenious people. News articles and all types of copy ranging from editorials to features were also given quite a work-out. Each member worked diligently, hoping that his article would be chosen to go into the Yazooan this year.

The club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Miller, criticized and praised articles and learned the techniques of journalism, so that they would be better able to write interesting, intelligent articles. The organization has made great gains in the development of future journalists. The members hopefully awaited the day that they might be admitted to the Yazooan Club or Mingo Chito staff.

While visiting the Ricks Memorial Library, the club was shown by Mrs. Williams how to use the reference material in the reading room.

"Dear, dear, how strange everything seems today!" exclaimed Alice in Wonderland as portrayed by Shelia Allgood in the Library Club play. Mrs. Smith and "her girls" again entertained the entire school with a play to honor National Library Week. This year, classic characters came to life before the eyes of the spellbound student body.

The Club also presented the play at the Eleventh Annual Student Library Assistants of Mississippi

Meeting held in Jackson. Our high school placed second for the best library. In poster competition they placed fourth.

The Jr.-Sr. Library Club consists of girls and boys that are already familiar with the library and its functions. The members act as assistant not only to Mrs. Smith, but to any student that needs help. We owe many thanks to these people because the library could not run without them.

One of the several services of the Junior Library Club was to keep the library attractively organized. The members dedicated their club period to cleaning the shelves and dusting behind the books. They advertised important events of each month through the bulletin board at both the high school and the public libraries. At the weekly meetings, programs included literary quizzes, such as "You Don't Say" giving clubs to identify authors and famous characters. Reviews of teenage books concerning boy and girl problems were timely and helpful.

The future Senior Library Club members learned how to use the magazines and books available and became acquainted with the library procedures and also the requirements of becoming a student librarian.

The Freshman-Sophomore Dramatic Club, under the supervision of Mr. Wallace Hoffman, learned and put into practice the basic fundamentals of acting. The entire school enjoyed the Thanksgiving program, "Sing the Songs of Thanksgiving," presented in assembly by the club. The members participated in a group of one-act plays with the assistance of the Junior-Senior Dramatic Club. No one will ever know how many stars were born as a result of the productions of this group. Fathomless resources of action talent were discovered in the club members.

The Junior-Senior Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Julia Piatt, was busy learning details concerning the stage and terms used in connection with it. They learned how to effectively use facial expressions while on stage through various pantomimes, charades, and imitations of fellow classmates.

At "try-out time" all of its members eagerly and nervously awaited Miss Piatt's announcement of the cast. In the latter part of February the club presented "A Case for Two Detectives," a mystery comedy which was enjoyed by all the student body.

The Math Club, in its fourth year of existence at YHS, learned many things involving the realm of mathematics. This club, under the supervision of Mr. Kenneth Buckley, was organized primarily to promote a more ardent interest in higher mathematics and planned its programs around difficult problems involving algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry. This group found Math useful in the business world, in recreation, in college preparation, and in their personal lives. Many members proved themselves potential mathematical giants by solving problems on educational tests. They discussed the changes made in the modern concepts of Mathematics in a changing world.

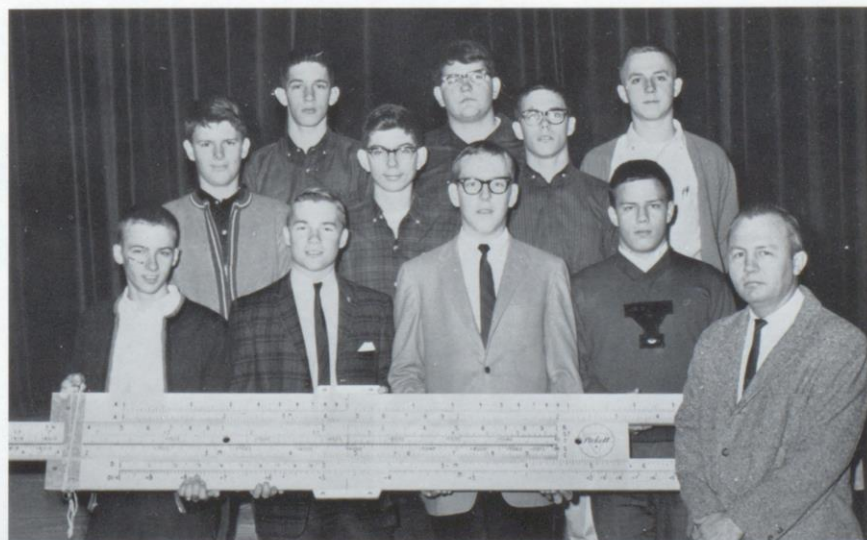

The Future Homemakers of America had one of the busiest years ever. The aims of the club were to develop better understanding of family relations and contribute to the improvement of community life; to promote good will through getting to know neighbors at home and abroad; and to develop potential abilities.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Ralph Hunt, was visited by a hair stylist and also by Mr. Earl Ingram, who talked about the care of shoes. The girls visited one of the local meat markets to learn how to select choice meats. Another trip was to a furniture store, where they learned about styles of furniture for different uses.

The Freshman-Sophomore Y-Teens worked diligently to spread good will and improvement throughout their school and community. Programs were given each week informing its members of methods to help them in character, personality, and in working and growing in friendship. The girls broadened their horizons by helping those in need throughout the city.

They had several projects during the year to further their aims and invoke the ideal of Christian living. In December, Freshman-Sophomore Y-Teens made Christmas more complete for one needy family by providing them with food, clothing, and toys. In addition to holding an Easter egg hunt for needy children the club distributed Easter baskets to the children in the hospital.

The Y-Teens showed by these deeds that they had advanced toward their goal of personal growth through service to others. "Service to others . . ." In these words the purpose and aim of this busy club can be summed up.

The objectives of this worthwhile organization are to develop competent, aggressive business leadership and to strengthen the members' confidence in themselves and their work. The club is designed particularly for those students who plan business careers. The girls learn about business through various projects and programs. They endorsed speakers and held various programs during the year. The development of organized recreational activities, such as skating parties, was just one proof of the efforts of this club to promote fun and fellowship. Its members tried to fully realize and understand the vital need for sensible but imaginative leaders in the world of business.

Junior-Senior Y-Teens, under the supervision of Miss Mitchell, was one of the more active clubs at YHS. Programs were presented with the idea of impressing upon each member the meaning of their motto which was "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share his love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God.

"May I help you?" are the words commonly used by a student of the D.E. Club. The members of this organization are the Diversified Occupations students who are interested in marketing, advertising, and selling as a vocation. The D.E. Club is associated with the D.E.C.A. (Diversified Education Clubs of America). Students compete in district, state and national levels in their respective divisions.

The T. & I. Club is composed of the D.O. students who want to serve in the fields of producing, manufacturing, assembling, and repairing of goods. Most members take part time jobs that relate to the field in which they would like to enter.

The D.O. program is a school and community laboratory through which high school people find expression in actual situations for the educational values obtained in all their other subjects. The student, his educational background, and his occupational opportunities are brought together in these clubs. State conventions are attended by the members of both organizations. Experts in certain fields often come to speak to them, giving the students a glimpse of their probable future.

The Science Club of YHS, better known as the Jets, was organized to cultivate scientific interest among the inquisitive high school students. The club, sponsored by Mr. George Richardson, was an affiliate of the Junior Engineering Technical Society, a national scientific organization. To be a member of the Jets, a student had to be taking one of the science courses during the present school year and had to submit a project to the annual science fair in the spring. YHS was represented at the Jets Convention held at Mississippi State University.

Excellent programs given weekly encouraged each member to learn more about the present world as well as of the world of tomorrow.

Having won first place in Yazoo City's Science Fair, Johnny Ross entered the District Fair at Hinds Junior College and was awarded a red ribbon, enabling him to enter in state competition.

Everette Beers, after receiving a first place ribbon in hometown competition, won second place in the District Science Fair. He entered in the State Fair at M.S.C.W. on April 16 and 17.

Pep Squad

Each day under the blistering summer sun a faithful group of girls practiced under the watchful and critical eyes of their leaders; Sue Mayfield, Kathy Stovall, Polly Woodell, and their sponsor Miss Hendrix. If one were very alert, he would notice that the continuous left-left-left-right-left of previous years had been altered to the merrier Yazoo-Yazoo-Yazoo Indians, which was created by one of the more brilliant football managers. These practices were not in vain, however. On each Friday afternoon of a home game, this group, known to all as the pep squad, marched downtown behind the band in their colorful red and black jumper uniforms shaking rah-rahs of the same colors.

To raise money, the pep squad held a car wash. The results were clean cars and a group of tired girls who had had a lot of fun earning sixty-four dollars.

The duty of the pep squad was fulfilled. The organization added to parades, helped to increase the volume at pep assemblies, and, most important, helped to boost the morale of the high school football team and student body.

support to boost the spirit of our football team and school.

"Ya-a-a-a," cheers the pep squad as the band plays "Red River Rock." Occupying the first few rows of the auditorium during pep assemblies, the pepsters helped to boost spirit for the football games.

Busy as bees, the enthusiastic pepsters gaily bedecked the goal posts each Friday afternoon before the football games. Oh, no! Not all the members were enthusiastic! First the Freshmen tried their skill! Ugh! They were followed each week by the Sophomores, Juniors, and then the Seniors.

Aside from decorating the field, the fanatical rooters highlighted the school assembly programs, afternoon parades, and the games themselves with spirit and color, producing bigger clangorous screams, thereby adding to the effectiveness of the cheers.

Miss Louise Hendrix, as sponsor, gave valuable pointers to the pep squad, taking time to offer constructive criticism and to help coordinate their plans.

"Get in line," is a frequent phrase heard while the pep squad, in full attire, prepares for the Friday afternoon parade. Fight songs, cheers, and an abundance of bedlam, all showing the tremendous support behind the Indians, invaded the business district of town.

The annual Y-Club initiation again started with a big bang. First came a car wash which all initiates fully enjoyed. Then the real fun began with line-up doing such things as kissing, singing, proposing, and shining shoes. Finally came initiation night, the final endeavor which ended with a party for all members as well as initiates.

"Get your tickets here," rang through the hall as the Y-Club boys again sold tickets to their annual dance. This year was no exception; tickets sold like hot cakes. Girls began to wish and dream and the boys, well, they began taking second looks.

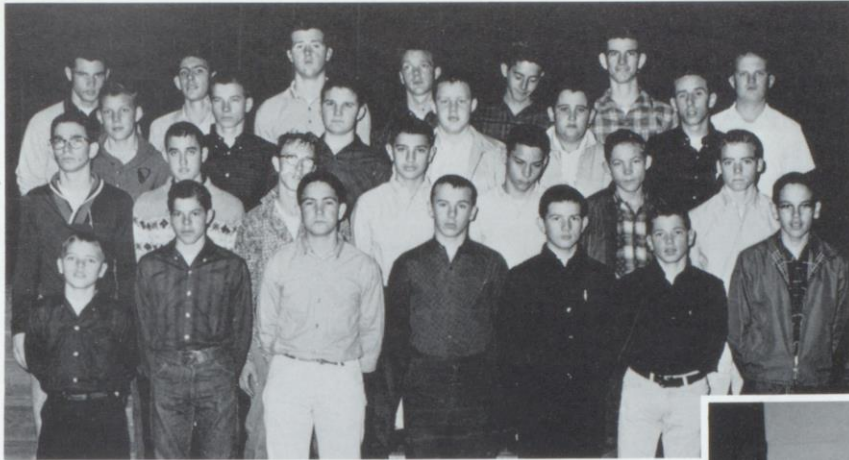

The boys also added to their funds by selling ballpoint pens. The ingenuity shown by the members was extraordinary. One could buy a 25c pen at "one for 50c and get one free."

After earning a varsity letter in one of four major sports, which is required for membership, the boys go through a rough and tumble initiation. The boys not only grow in fitness, but in sportsmanship and friendship.

The aim of the Y-Club, which is under the direction of Coach Eulas "Red" Jenkins, was to strengthen good sportsmanship in the student body through the effort and example of its members. Congratulations and thanks go to the boys of the Y-Club for their achievement and their contribution to the school.

As a whole, 1963-1964 was a very successful year for the Boys' 4-H Club and their leader, Mr. Buck Coats, who is associate county agent. Although the club accomplished much as a group, most of the 4-H activities were carried on by individuals. Several members of the club received honors for which they had worked very diligently. The club showed that through hard work, diligent study, and acquired skill, one can deserve and earn honors for which his home, school, and community are proud of him.

Thomas Strickland has attained quite a list of honors for his work in the livestock program. He won first place in local competition and fourth place in the state show at Jackson. Here he displays the lamb which won him second place in the District Livestock Show.

Jo Ann Coleman brought honor to the local 4-H Club when she was selected Senior Livestock Queen at the banquet. She was crowned by Mary Lee Anderson, the reigning queen.

Winning a red ribbon in the Yazoo County Livestock Show, Johnny Ross proudly displays his outstanding Angus Bull. Having participated in 4-H for several years, Johnny has gained many honors through his livestock and other phases of 4-H work.

Knit-one; Purl-two. Knitting? Who has time for knitting? Certainly not these busy 4-H'ers led by the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Ollie Jean Lane, and assistant home demonstration agent, Miss Lyles Cannon. The club took an active part in the all-county demonstration and judging contest in March, the 4-H talent contest in April and the home improvement contest. The 4-H Club succeeded in "making the best, better."

The Junior-Senior Hi-Y, affiliated with the state YMCA, under the direction of Coach Leslie Clark, participated in the annual Christmas party for the Columbia Training School donating clothes and other gifts to the school. The club also has had informative programs each week given by either the members or guest speakers. In these ways the club fulfilled its purpose to maintain high standards of Christian character.

"Cokes, candy—Only 10c." The cry was heard at each home basketball game, where the busy Freshman-Sophomore Hi-Y'ers worked diligently at the concession stands. This club completed many projects, one of which was to clean out the trophy case and polish the trophies until they cast an untarnished shine.

Christmas came and the Hi-Y'ers collected money and a box of clothes which were sent to the Columbus Training School. Santa Claus came to two needy families in the form of food and clothing via this group.

The Hi-Y club and the Freshman-Sophomore Y-Teens combined their time, talents, and money to give one of the best parties of the year. Part of the entertainment was provided by a YHS combo composed of De Graeber, Larry Carter, Everette Beers, Donnie Hollis, and Rae Shannon.

Mixed Chorus

Music makers Miss Bernice Gay and Carol Ann Sudduth paused in the midst of choral practice to have their picture made.

Accompanied by Carol Ann Sudduth and directed by Miss Bernice Gay, the 1963-64 Yazoo City High School Mixed Chorus met every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the 5th period. The amateur choristers gathered in the studio room and gave their vocal chords a real working out. Throughout the nine months of the school year the music students learned many new objectives of music and renewed their knowledge of what they had already learned.

The group worked very hard during the entire year. Their activities included singing in the Thanksgiving assembly program, put on by the Dramatics Club, in which they sang traditional Thanksgiving songs. They also sang in a city-wide song service at the First Methodist Church. As the jolly season of Christmas approached, the Mixed Chorus prepared an excellent Christmas program giving the background of Christmas music and songs to represent the different groups. After Christmas the Mixed Chorus began to prepare for the Spring Festival which they attended in April. At the festival the songsters enjoyed singing and practicing with musicians from all over the state.

Through their varied program of music, the vocalists learned to appreciate the art of music by actual participation.

through long, hard practices and many successful performances.

FIFTH ROW: Pam Sharp, Jane Utz, Donny Chevalier, Mickey Ward.

Playing a major role in the school life of YHS were our excellent marching and concert bands under the direction of Mr. Stanley C. Beers and assistant director Mr. Donald C. Vaughan.

During the fall the band boosted the school spirit at pep rallies with rousing fight songs which always included the favorite "Red River Rock." The marching band was ready with a snappy half-time show for every football game at home and away.

With the coming of spring, attention was turned to individual performance and concert music. Sixteen students auditioned for places in the Lions All-State Band which will travel to Canada and New York this summer. In preparation for contest the band gave several concerts which included the high school, Jr. High and stage bands.

In state contests the band received excellent ratings and was complimented on the improvement they had made in the past years. Also receiving excellent ratings were student conductor Richard Collins and Drum Majorette Barbara Kelly.

Stage Band

Tuesday nights found the stage band hard at work preparing for public appearances and the stage band festival in April. Directed by Donald Vaughan the group received the high praises of both amateur and professional jazz enthusiasts. Bob Lester was chosen as the outstanding musician by judges at the festival.

Miss YHS
Ginny Lee Terrell

No one at YHS is likely to forget Ginny's friendly smile and cheerfulness. She radiated pep and school spirit as a football cheerleader—head cheerleader this year—always making the pep assemblies a grand success. But vitality was not all she possessed. She proved her ability at sports as a member of the track and basketball teams. Ginny was elected class favorite her junior year and served as circuit clerk in County Government Day. For four years she was a valuable member of the Yazooan staff, proving her journalistic ability. Versatile, vivacious, talented, and friendly—these traits describe MISS YAZOO HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. YHS
Leslie Metcalfe

An active participant in three major sports, Leslie obtained the coveted membership in the Y-Club his junior year. He was selected to be in the National Athletic Scholarship Society for his participation in basketball, football, and track. A favorite among the students and known for his friendly smile and personality, Leslie was selected as a beau in the Who's Who both this year and last year. Possessing, in addition to his other assets, ability to play a musical instrument, he was a member of the band his freshman year. This popular, talented student has definitely left his indelible mark on YHS.

Homecoming—a day of tradition at YHS

Yazoo's red and black Indian band strut their stuff in the traditional homecoming parade.

Spritely Mary Lee Anderson, "Queen" of our day, epitomizes the feeling all Yazooans have at homecoming.

A day of tradition and much excitement characterized our homecoming at YHS. The day began at 10:30, October 4, as Queen Mary Lee Anderson was crowned by student body president, Jimmy Elkin. Walking in splendor down the aisles of the auditorium, the Senior maid, Ginny Lee Terrell, escorted by Merrill Merkle was presented to the students. The other maids and escorts followed: Sara Beth Pinson with Tommy Raggett, Rosemary Sudduth with Wallace Russell, and Mary Ann Pinson with Jim Simmons.

The royal court made their appearance in sparkling convertibles and encircled the field to greet the crowd. At half time, in an impressive ceremony, they were presented the traditional gold footballs and yellow chrysanthemums by the cheerleaders. To end the brilliant spectacle, the students saluted their school with the Alma Mater and gained a victory over Central.

The alternate maids were Varner Hines, Clara Dean Russell, Polly Woodell, and Jo Ann Coleman.

Girls' and Boys' Staters

"Forward forever, backward never, within ourselves our future lies." These wise words, the motto of the American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State, inspired our Yazoo City High School delegates to participate in the 1964 summer session. Our two boy representatives who participated in Boys' state enjoyed equal privileges. Both "States" were informed as to the governmental practices and enjoyed a fulfilled week at Belhaven College and Hinds Junior College.

Merit Scholarship Finalists

Perseverance and initiative were only two of the traits that marked the National Merit Finalists, Bob Lester and Everette Beers. Both were recently tapped for Quill and Scroll and were two-year members of the National Honor Society.

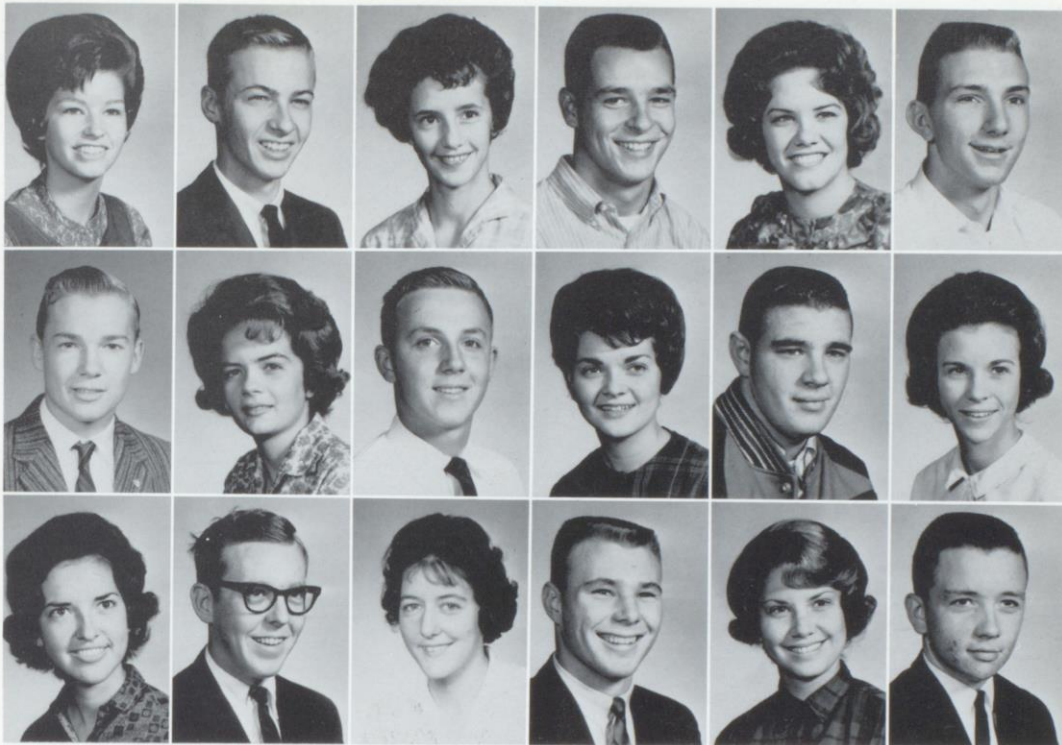

Everette, a member of Lions All-State last year, was the most Valuable band student of 1963-64.

Bob was also a talented band student as well as a member of the National Athletic Scholarship Society.

Rotary Guests

Each month of the 1963-1964 school year, two outstanding seniors were selected by the faculty to be Rotary Guests. These students attended the meetings of the Rotary Club each Wednesday of that month and enjoyed delicious lunches and excellent programs—both educational and entertaining, as well as fellowship with the businessmen of the town. Several times during the year the Rotarians were entertained by choral groups of the high school.

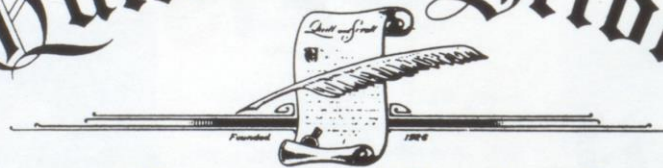

By being guest, the seniors gained first-hand information about the worthwhile projects sponsored by the Rotary Club and came to realize the importance of such an organized group to the community.

Quill and Scroll

International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

The 1964 members of the Quill and Scroll were announced in assembly on April 24. In a program presented by Mrs. H. E. Watson and Mrs. J. W. Parker, pins were presented to outstanding students on the yearbook and paper staffs.

Members of Quill and Scroll were judged on such qualities as being in the upper third of their class, recommendation by their sponsor, and approval by the Executive Secretary of the Society. They also had to do superior work in some phase of high school journalism or school publications work, such as writing, editing, business management or production.

National Honor Society

On March 27, the long awaited assembly which brought honor and excitement to the initiates finally came. The Honor Society tapped seven juniors and eleven seniors for membership. It also includes seven 1963 members who handled this year's program.

The National Honor Society is designed to initiate new and greater ambitions in young aspiring students. To be selected is an honor, a privilege and a challenge.

In order to become a member one must possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character and service. The possession of only one of these qualities does not qualify a student for membership, for he must possess all of these traits.

The 1963 members conducted this year's initiation. Elizabeth Cooper served as narrator with Bob Lester, Macy Satterfield, Everette Beers and Ginny Lee Terrell outlining the qualities needed for membership. Mrs. Laura Alice Spell provided the background music as Mr. Kelly announced the new members. Following the presentation of pins, Mr. Herman DeCell presented the challenge to the student body. The program came to an end as the students and members sang the Alma Mater.

National Athletic Scholarship Society

To be a member of the National Athletic Scholarship Society, boys must exhibit high qualities of scholarship, citizenship, and most of all, sportsmanship. This honor is one of the highest that can be bestowed on a junior or senior athlete. To be chosen for membership, boys must have displayed outstanding progress in one or more of the four major sports. Being the possessor of a letter alone does not entitle one to membership in the society, but he must also be in the upper one third of his class.

This honor, awarded on recognition day, is one of high merit and is set up to encourage stronger and more willing efforts in all phases of athletic competition. When a young athlete is selected for membership, he is expected to strive even more to create higher standards.

"Victory, Victory is Our Cry" was the resounding chant heard through the halls of old YHS as our vivacious cheerleaders shouted to the high-spirited student body. Heading the cheers this year were two seniors, Ginny Terrell and Elizabeth Cooper. Among other duties that the cheerleaders supervised were the parades, football field decorations and the pep squad.

This year B-Team cheerleaders were added to our squad of spirit boosters. These energetic misses assisted the varsity in promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship.

The record books are now closed on another Yazoo City football season. To most it was a disappointing season, full of frustration and effort given in vain. Among this group would be numbered the Indian team.

Although the boys were full of fight and fortitude, the Yazoo attack just never quite came up to what everyone thought it was capable of being. Certainly nothing can be taken from these young men who tried so hard to do so much.

The boys began running in the middle of the summer to prepare for that hot starting date of August 15. Practicing twice a day for two weeks, the Indians got ready for the opening game.

Trainers Jon Foose and David Hatchett display their first-aid know-how on two injured players. Their services were necessary for keeping players in superior condition.

Jimmy Smith asserts his authority over Sophomore managers, Tommy Everett and James Berberetz. This trio was a great asset to the 1963 Indian squad.

Season Summary

First of all, the Redmen met a highly regarded group of Provine Rams on September 6. The boys showed a lot of fight and spirit, but there were just too many goats. Yazoo fell 21-6.

After a long hard open week, the Indians hosted the Clarksdale-Cahoma Wildcats on the twentieth. Sparkling on both offense and defense, the hometown gang showed fans just exactly how they should play. A 23-7 victory was happily recorded in Yazoo City gridiron annals of 1963.

The ensuing week saw the local team travel to the capital city to combat the Murrah Mustangs. Someone, however, had left the corral gate open because the fired-up mules were stampeding that night. When the dust had cleared, a 21-0 mistake riddled defeat haunted citizens of the Gateway to the Delta.

"Vengeance is ours" saith the tribe and certainly it was theirs on the first Friday in October. The big Red met Jackson Central with its mind on getting even with the big city boys. After an offensive show, the Tigers fell by a score of 26-19.

On October 11, the Indians journeyed into Le-Flore County to battle the Bulldogs of Greenwood High. Seemingly inspired, the Redmen could do no wrong. Scoring in various and sundry ways, the visitors piled up a 42-12 score over the mongrels for the only road victory of the season.

Yazoo rolled into Vicksburg on October 18, with blood in its eye. The homestanding Greenies were assaulted by all forms of Indian attacks but repelled the tribe when the delta boys' own miscues caused the termination of five Indian drives. Vicksburg won 20-14. In losing the game Yazoo City also lost the services of All-State quarterback, Gerald Moses, via a knee injury.

The entire squad looks on with great eagerness as the referee prepares to toss the coin.

Hard tackling and crisp blocking highlighted Indian efforts,

Gerald Moses eludes a Wildcat by flipping the "pigskin" to Obie McClure who out maneuvers the opponents.

Vincent Jesse and Bob Sherling quickly move in to put the quietus on a lynx halfback.

Greenville, number three in the state, paid a visit to Coach Jenkins and his boys on the first day of November. Ready and able, the local team met the river boys on equal terms for three quarters. The Hornets picked up two later touchdowns to give them a 20-7 victory, but as they rode home that night, they were well aware of a hard-knocking, fiery little bunch of football players that lived about sixty miles south of them.

Following a long trip into the Pontotoc Ridge country, the Indians clashed with Columbus' Stephen D. Lee High Generals. In the opening half Yazoo scored first and then let the Generals pick up two easy touchdowns by means of poor play. The second half was highlighted by vicious defense by each team. Sounding pads and upset ball carriers seemed to be the order of the day, as neither offense could do anything. The Red and Black fell that night by a score of 12-6, however, they really put up a fight before they left.

The Smudge pot flares up—Haley Barbour and the rest of the Indians seem rather upset at the referee's decision, but it didn't help as the official decided to call it his way just the same.

But erratic play and mental mistakes cost the tribe many games.

Yazoo City came upon a sad situation on November 18. Unable to do anything right, the tribe just gave Canton a 34-7 victory. The Panthers seemed to pull out touchdowns as a magician pulls rabbits from his favorite top hat. No need for excuses, the black tigers were just the superior outfit that night.

To the casual, uninformed reader the fore-mentioned summary of the 1963 season would seem that of a mediocre football team. To those who followed the Indians closely, the real picture is reflected by the close games they saw played and regenerated in these writings. The 1963 edition of the grid team was a never-say-die bunch that played on equal terms with all but two teams. While they themselves did not possess the physical ability of many opponents, no excuses are offered by this rugged bunch of individuals who played their hearts out for their Alma Mater. Remember, there is no place on the score board to show determination.

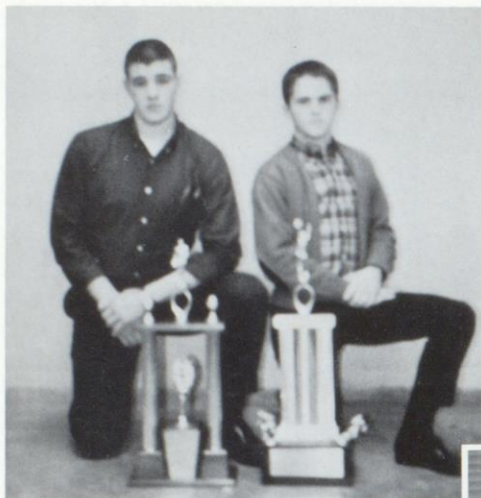

Gerald Moses rolls out with one thought only—Hit that receiver!

Herlan Ray Heidel mauls a fleet "Ram" in a determined effort to stop Provine's advance toward Yazoo's double stripe.

Events after a losing season showed the spirit of Yazooans.

Although Gerald Moses was injured and didn't get to finish the season, he was chosen by his teammates to receive the Most Valuable Player award. This award is often thought to be the greatest honor a team member can earn. Gerald's ability to perform was recognized by the squad even more so after he was sidelined because of a knee injury. Gerald was also chosen for All-Big-8 honors and as a member of the All-State Team.

Butch Gary, a somewhat small athlete, was truly a great asset to the 1963 Indian squad. He was selected by the coaching staff to receive the first Fred Rand Sportsmanship award. He earned this honor as a result of his untiring efforts to produce a sportsmanlike attitude on and off the field, both in practice and during games. Butch's conduct was one to be envied by all who participate in any sort of sports.

That long awaited day finally arrived—the day the football players received their jackets and sweaters rewarding them for a job well done. Coach Jenkins called the team to his office and explained to them that all missing equipment must be returned to him first. When this task was completed he presented the lettermen with their monogrammed jackets and sweaters. At last these boys could proudly display the letter of their Alma Mater.

The team's Best Blocker and Tackler is chosen by the squad itself. Leslie Metcalfe was chosen to receive this award. Leslie demonstrated his block and tackling abilities in each of the games and every day at practice. The team votes on this award because they are the ones who have the daily contact with one another; thereby better qualifying them to make a wise decision. Leslie's abilities were also recognized by the sportscasters, being selected as honorable mention on its All-Big-8 team.

The Most Improved Player award is a relatively new honor. The recipient is selected by the Coaching Staff. The coaches review game films and compare player's actions of past years to those of the present season. After many days of watching the films the coaches began to compare notes and eliminate potential players. When the final elimination was completed Vincent Jesse had been unanimously chosen for the honor.

The names of trophy winners were kept secret and later announced at the annual Touchdown Club Banquet.

Sophomore quarterback Ray Heidel demonstrates a few of his eye-catching maneuvers that enabled him to become one of the B-team's most efficient ground gainers.

No matter how much potential a team has, it can do nothing without practice. The "scrubs" or B-team members are the ones who take the knocks and bruises giving the Varsity line dummies and open field running practice.

Besides the training gained in practice sessions, the Junior Varsity also gains game experience in exciting B-team encounters. This experience will prove to be a valuable asset to a somewhat young team next year. Although the paramount strength of the Indians lay in their Varsity, the team could not properly co-ordinate the fundamentals of football, including running, blocking, and tackling, without the valuable help of the Junior Varsity.

Under the direction of coaches Jerry Brown and Leslie Clark, the team posted a fair season. They played only two games winning the first and losing the second. For the first game they travelled to Greenville and romped them 21-7. Then back to the homefront where they suffered a 20-14 defeat to Provine.

Basketball

Having returned with little experience, the varsity basketball squad under the head mentor, Ed Castles, finished a stepped up season of rebuilding. Because a large percentage of underclassmen made up the under-sized team, the cagers lacked poise and background. However, the experience gained by underclassmen was invaluable.

The Indians did find glory when they brought home the runner-up trophy of the Belzoni Invitational Tournament. They easily defeated Rolling Fork and Isola to gain berth in the finals with Inverness whose boys were much larger. The team was very aggressive; however, the game was won by Inverness in the closing minutes. Two redmen, Gary Brown and Gerald Moses, made the All-Tournament team.

The five boys who formed the nucleus of the team were Gerald Moses, Johnny Fraiser, Tommy Teaster, Gary Brown, and John North. They were backed by seniors Bob Lester, Frank Holifield, Mike Highbaugh; Juniors Lonnie Graeber, Bill Mashburn, Colin Campbell, and Sophomores David Roberts and Ray Heidel. The experience gained from this season should prove a great asset to next year's team.

B-Team

The B-Team concluded an even season with six wins and five losses. Under the guidance of Leslie Clark, the Indians beat some fine teams but they lost a few close ones in the last few minutes that could have gone either way. As a whole, the Indians were big, strong rebounders, and showed great hustle and spirit throughout the season! The main purpose of any B-team is to give experience to a young boy who has the potential of becoming a varsity starter. These boys gave the varsity players "a run for their position" and sometimes were called to fill in on the varsity squad.

This scrappy team was led by Ray Heidel, Colin Campbell, Bill Mashburn, Bob Walker, Pete Cook.

The Indianetts and female faculty members battled it out in the annual March of Dimes basketball game. The "Younger girls" defeated the teachers by a slight margin.

The 1964 Indianette season proved to be the best ever. With eleven returning lettermen and two fine coaches, the team produced an outstanding record with eight wins and only four losses.

Forming the nucleus of the team were Lucy Shackelford, Elizabeth Cooper, Deen Barrier, Sue Mayfield, Mary Lee Anderson, and Ginny Terrell. Backing up the team were Connie Wyldmon, Lois Boutwell, Cheryl Johnston, Betty Joe Mood, Betty Jane Kellum, and Clara Dean Russell.

The Captain for this year was Deen Barrier and the Co-Captain was Elizabeth Cooper. They were selected by their teammates by secret ballot. These two girls showed outstanding skill and initiative.

Golf

KNEELING: Michael Knodel, Bobby Jones, Michael Harris, Ben Darby, Ken Addington. STANDING: Coach Bob Towery, Jimmy Smith, Frank Holifield, Mike Highbaugh, Lonnie Graeber, Charles Allen, Colin Campbell.

Beginning its third year, the golf team, coached by Bob Towery, had five returning lettermen. Six new members were added to round out an eleven man team.

In early April the golf team began preparing for the first of three big matches. These included the Hornets of Greenville and the Clarksdale Wildcats. Yazoo came out favorably in the match finishing a strong second in both A and B divisions. In the return match with the Hornets the Indians handed the Greenville boys a sound defeat with Lonnie Graeber's score of 76 lowest for the day.

On May first the Indians were off to Meridian for the highlight of the season, the Big-8 Tournament. Play consisted of two eighteen-hole rounds. Yazoo finished a strong seventh and again for the second year, fifth in the North Big-8. The Indians showed a marked improvement over the previous year by over 20 strokes. Ben Darby had the lowest tournament score in Yazoo golf history with a fine 74.

Next year the team will return with six lettermen to begin a fourth season of keen competition.

"Blow real hard now, Charles!" says Mike Highbaugh in a slightly desperate tone, as he determines to sink that putt.

Castle and Brown work hard as players demonstrate fine ability.

Baseball

Under the coaching of Ed Castles, the 1964 baseball season was one of the best had at Yazoo in quite some time. With only a few boys out this year, the Indians showed much hustle and spirit on and off the field. Although they were knocked out of district contention early in the season, they helped to decide the district king by knocking off Murrah and Provine in key games for the Jacksonians. The Indians finished fourth in the district with four wins and six losses, but closed out the 1964 campaign with seven wins and six losses, their first overall winning season in four years.

Husky Gerald Moses won the batting crown this year with a sizzling .490 batting average which included five home runs.

The Indians will return to the diamond next year with nine lettermen. Haley Barbour and Carnis Kelly will head the mound corp and will be backed by Larry Mobley and Ray Heidel who helped Moses with the "stick" with a hot batting average of .361 and .343 respectively.

Hard work and team spirit lead Indians to a successful season.

Catching, which was done this year by Gerald Moses, is a very essential part of a baseball team. Here Gerald is about to receive a pitch from hurler Carnis Kelly in the Murrah game which the Indians won 10-4.

Pitching usually determines how good a team is and how far it will go in competition. This year's mound staff, shown here with Coach Castles, was composed of righthanders Haley Barbour and Tommy Teaster and lefthanders Carnis Kelly and Charlie Ford. Three of these players will return and give Yazoo City a solid pitching staff.

The Great American Game

He's Out! Third baseman Tommy Teaster receives a strong throw from Leslie Metcalfe and puts the tag on a Murrah runner trying to advance from first on a single to right. This type of defense defeated Murrah in a home game for the Indians.

With determination, Nate VanCleave skinned the bar to remain in fierce competition.

Elton Calhoun winds out demonstrating excellent form necessary for throwing the discus.

a major factor in disappointing season for Yazoo cindermen

Sophomore Ray Heidel, one of the State's best low and high hurdlers, glides over the low hurdles.

Coach E. S. Jenkins gives Jeffrey Smith, a freshman, a few key points for the 100-yard dash.

Dennis Melton receives the baton from Obie McClure in the relays.

Jimmy Rogers gets ready for "Takeoff" in the 220-yard dash.

Dempsey Ladner, perhaps the best pole-vaulter YHS has ever had, illustrates his form to clear the bar.

Sports enthusiasts joined in intramural action during months

Intramurals

The Vice-President of the Student Council, Haley Barbour, who supervised all games, initiated the intramurals early in October with touch football first on the agenda. The bracketing was determined by the drawing of class opponents by the respective homeroom presidents. There were many exciting games during the two month session, but Hunt survived many excruciating battles to become over-all champions in touch football. The cooperation between the Student Council and the students resulted in a great success.

The hard won victories for some homerooms during the keen competition of intramurals was a real test of skill and initiative on the part of everyone who played and watched.

Senior boys exercise skill and abilities in the annual football competition.

Hunt's homeroom of senior boys captured the football championship by defeating all the other homerooms.

With the coming of cold and rainy winter, intramurals shifted to the indoor sports. The next sport on the agenda saw Hester's Hessians copping the championship. Boys basketball games were most exciting, however, when played between the Sophomores and Juniors. Richardson's agile team became champions after defeating Ladner's eager beavers in the finals.

The boys volleyball tournament followed the boys basketball as the girls voted not to participate in this sport. Every game was a decisive battle between the determined teams of each homeroom, but Smith's Sharpies were victorious in the tournament.

For use in all games the participants wore jerseys furnished by the school, so that the referees could distinguish the opposing teams.

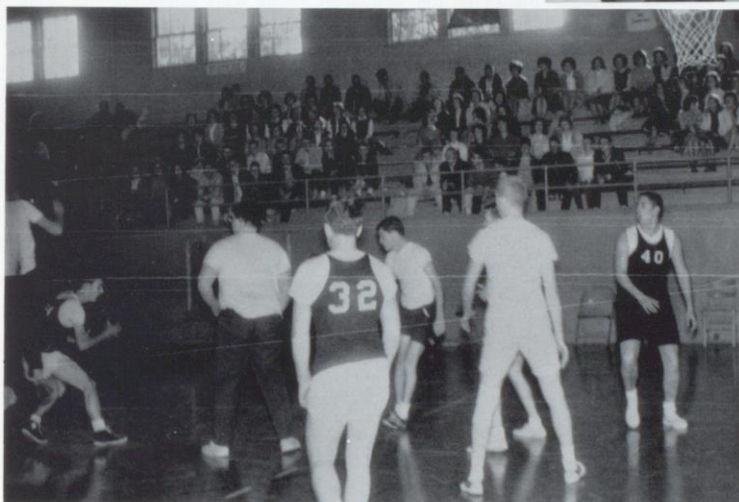

Sophomores and juniors battle it out in a great game on the basketball court. Richardson won the crown after upsetting Mrs. Smith's homeroom.

of heated competition in Football, Basketball and Volleyball.

A large part of athletic activity was carried on behind the scene of action. Without the invaluable collaboration of Haley Barbour and the willing and competent referees, these games would not have been such a success. These people worked very diligently on a volunteer basis and deserved the praise of every student.

As one must realize, it is impossible to carry on the intramurals without the assistance of capable and experienced referees. The student referees this year were excellent and proved their competence in their unbiased rulings. Among the qualified boys who assisted were Tommy Teaster, Haley Barbour, Johnny Fraiser, Colin Campbell and John North. To be a qualified referee, one must either play basketball, football or other sports involved, or have had some experience with them in some form or another.

Competition among the girls in basketball was most exciting. Almost every girl took part and some very exciting games were played.

What is the praise one gets for entering into these activities and winning? Why, Gold trophies, of course! On recognition day, when others are recognized for their accomplishments, each winning homeroom accepts a beautiful gold trophy.

Because each homeroom gave support to its team, much enthusiasm was aroused during the intramural competition. A large crowd of spectators arrived in the gymnasium every day at 12:25 to give its support to respective homerooms. With so much screaming and cheering for the teams, sometimes the players really got going and played "harder" than they could.

But these games, one of the largest highlights of our school year, were enjoyed by spectators consisting not only of students but faculty members, too.

As an extra added attraction, the new members of the Y-Club led cheers for the participating teams during their week of initiation.

In Memoriam

Quietly and humbly two men found their places in the hearts of those who knew them. Now, removed in the prime of their lives, they leave to each of us an example of Christian character and sincere friendliness to be long remembered. We, the students of Yazoo City High School, cherish the memories of two departed companions.

Junior High Faculty

MR. CRUIT R. BUCKLEY, Principal

As one enters Yazoo Junior High School in the second phase of his quest for knowledge, he is guided by his teachers and counselors. Mr. Cruit R. Buckley, the principal, rules with an overpowering but thoughtful hand—overpowering, because he directs the students with an iron hand to develop them into better citizens for tomorrow's trying problems, thoughtful, because he considers with an open mind the attitudes and wills of the students. The faculty by their unselfishness, understanding, and source of information strives to further the education of the future leaders of our town, state, and country.

Junior High Graduates of 1964

The Danforth award is presented each year at graduation to an outstanding boy and girl student. The book, I Dare You, written by Mr. Danforth, was awarded this year to Georgianna Clark and Hardy Williams. Both of these students played an active and useful part in school life and were excellent students.

Meridith Foose and Bo Kelly were the honored recipients of the American Legion award. Possessing such qualities as character, citizenship, leadership, scholarship and service, these students were valuable assets to their school. Both Meridith and Bo were quite versatile and always eager to participate in school activities.

Mr. and Miss Junior High

Linda Crawford
Benny Street

Pert and vivacious Linda Crawford was active in many phases of Junior High life. By being a cheerleader, a member of the basketball team, a tennis pro, and an outstanding 4-H member, Linda has exemplified many of her innumerable talents.

Benny Street has played an important part in all Junior High activities. By playing football, tennis, and being the Vice-President of the Boys' Athletic Club, Benny has shown himself to be an outstanding leader.

These two happy and carefree eighth graders, Linda and Benny, were chosen by their fellow classmates as Mr. and Miss Junior High.

The friendly smiles and winning personalities of Lana and Thomas won for them the title anyone would like to have.

This year the Yazoo Junior High Football team made the finest showing of any team in the school history by closing the 1963 season with a 5-1-0 record. Under the coaching of Sammy Howard and Ed Castles, the team reported to practice in late August. The heat, at times almost unbearable, did not affect the team's spirit, morale, or determination.

The Warriors opened the season with a 27-0 win over Culkin, but the next week they returned fiery and spirited only to be defeated 13-0 by Vicksburg. This unsuspected defeat did not upset this determined and talented team, and they climaxed the season with four straight victories of identical scores. The season proved to be a very rewarding experience for both Coach Howard and Coach Castles, since it was their first year in the Yazoo City Athletic program.

Football, Basketball, Baseball, Tennis and studying, all a part

This is the last year at Junior High for these forlorn looking 8th graders. They are just wondering what High School is really like.

Fun, Sports, Fun

Watch out, High School—we're growing 'em big and powerful around here at Junior High.

They're not studying! Wonder what's in that book?

of Junior High, helped train future high school participants.

Bow legged britches! They may look like egg beaters playing football, but they get the job done.

Mr. Kealhofer wonders if that last point was 30-love or love-40. He'll never know for sure now.

We want this jump fair, so throw it up straight.

A little more to the left and straight down the line and you'll have it.

Tra congratulates Randy after a long and hard game of tennis.

One big happy family!

"See, Mrs. Smith, there it is."

"What game? I'm looking for McBee!"

"What a wonderland!"

"We oughta go to Venice!"

"See, right there."

Smile . . .

"I never thought he'd do it!" says Bob Sherling. Dale Holmes doesn't think it's a laughing matter—Clara Dean does!!

"Really, Brig!" exclaims Mary Lee Anderson, "Must you always be the center of attention?"

"Shall I get red or black?" asks senior-to-be Pam Warden.

What's this? A coke party during English?

"I should have gotten a ring rather than a pin," says Harriett Phillips. "They're much prettier."

You Are On

Stop grinning, Byron, and roll that peanut!

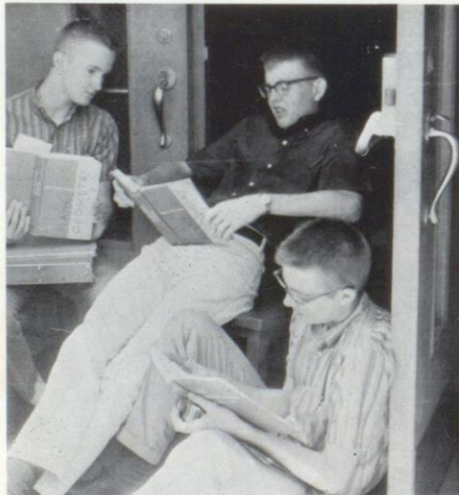

Stretch, Knodel, you can do it!

And then you take the tire . . . out . . .

Mr. Massey will never catch us!

"It says right here in my Plane Geometry book that . . ."

Candid Camera!

Elizabeth Lacey and Beth Langston stand as representatives of Girl Scouting.

"Oh, look, there I am!"

Freshmen pretend to study as Phil Stewart finds his excitement in novels.

"Bet I could climb that tree, with a Yazooan balanced on my left toe!"

THE PATH AHEAD
BY VARNER HINES

As we close our year, Diary Dear,
After striving our best to achieve
Adequate knowledge, we take our leave with many memories sad and clear.

The years ahead stretch dim and unrehearsed
But try we will to make them pave
A smoother path for all who gave Precedence to thought of first things first.

The staff of the 1964 Mingo Chito leaves with the hope that this yearbook will bring as many smiles and reminiscences to you as it has to us during its publication.
