COACH GERALD WOOLFOLK

This year's Mingo Chito is proudly dedicated to Coach Gerald Woolfolk. Coach Woolfolk is truly a man of distinction whom the YHS faculty, students, and administrators will surely miss. Not only has Coach Woolfolk been an active Social Studies teacher and an assistant football coach, but a hardworking, dedicated Girls' Basketball coach. Under his wings since 1980, the Indianettes have captured Five District Titles and have made it to the State Play-offs four times.

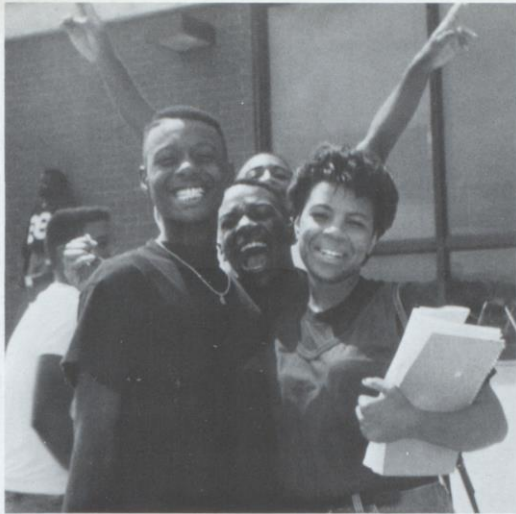

A man of many qualities, "Big Woo" is truly one who has left to his fellow co-workers and students his strength, his courage, and his guidance. He left to us all his dedication, determination, and his will for us to be all we can be. His trail is one that many can follow with pride. Coach Woolfolk is an original. We can only hope to accomplish half the things he did.

THANKS!

Thank you Coach Woolfolk for giving to YHS many meaningful and wonderful moments. Thoughts of you shall long linger in the halls of Yazoo City High School. May God bless you and continue to be the head of your life. You are truly one whom many will remember with much admiration and praise. We love you dearly and wish you a happy retirement.

— The Yazoo City High School
Faculty and Students

FIRST DAYS

The first days were filled with anticipation, excitement, and enthusiasm. Nothing could compare to the YHS spirit shown during these days. "Senioritis" was in the air and all seniors caught it. Underclassmen enjoyed meeting new friends and getting reacquainted with the old. As all students prepared for the daily task of reading, writing, and arithmetic they looked forward to a very promising and rewarding year.

ROARING 50'S & 60

Homecoming at YHS was a week that went from strange to stranger. Many students actively took part in dressing up and float decorating. Aside from not winning the game, the week was a success. Not only did it raise school spirit, but it gave many students a chance to see school was not all work and no play.

DR. LESLIE JOHNSON SUPERINTENDENT OF YAZOO CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

YEARBOOK MESSAGE

At no other time in the history of education have there been more new ideas and innovations available to help students become more accomplished learners. However, no innovation is of value in and of itself. No innovation will solve all the complex problems that we face in today's world. No technology can replace a well trained mind. There are many opportunities available to each of you for a successful life. However, to seize any opportunity is entirely up to you. There is nothing automatic or magic about achieving success. It does not always come easy.

As Superintendent of Yazoo City Public Schools, it is my desire that each of you meets with success now and in the future. If I were asked to, I would offer the following tips on achieving success:

1. You must want to succeed.
2. You must prepare to succeed.
3. You must believe that you can succeed.
4. You must work to succeed, and
5. You must be willing to help others succeed.

Congratulations to the Yearbook Staff for a splendid capturing of this year's memories.

CASSANDRA LEACH

Yazoo native climbs in Texas police ranks

By CAROL STEWART

Herald Staff Writer

Yazoo City native Cassandra Leach of Houston, Texas, was recently promoted to detective with the Harris County, Texas, Sheriff's Department. Leach is the first black female detective in the department.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Leach of Yazoo City. Leach is a county supervisor. Mrs. Inell Leach is a teacher who is active in community service.

Detective Leach was assigned to the Special Investigations Unit of Detectives Bureau. Within the Special Investigations Unit 1, she works in the Child Abuse Division, investigating physical and sexual abuse of children where the perpetrator is family related.

Leach is a 1977 graduate of Yazoo City High School and a 1981 cum laude graduate of Tougaloo College. She has also completed 33 hours of coursework toward a master of science degree in criminal justice management from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas.

Leach moved to Houston from Yazoo City in 1982 and was hired by the Harris County Sheriff's Department, the second largest in the nation.

The detective initially worked as a jailer for a year. In 1985, she attended the Sheriff's Training Academy and graduated in April as a licensed peace officer of the State of Texas.

Although Leach holds the number one position on the sergeant's eligibility list, she plans to decline the promotion if or when it is offered. "I want to build a strong investigative background in the area of child abuse," she said.

Leach said her promotion to detective was a history-making event as she was the first black female detective hired by the department. The department had employed black male detectives, one white female detective and a small number of hispanic female detectives before her appointment.

"I would like to allow my achievement to serve as an inspiration to our community's youth," Leach said. "I make reference to the community (Yazoo City) as though I am still a part of it because I am. It's home and it's in my heart."

YAZOO COUNTY

Gateway to the Delta

Covering a 938-square-mile area, Yazoo County is Mississippi's largest county. Our ample territory, running from the Hills to the Delta, provides room for both agriculture and industry to flourish. Yazoo County offers an abundance of natural resources, including substantial oil and gas resources. Only a short drive from the state capital, Yazoo County is an ideal location for industry. A county owned industrial park offers fully-developed plant sites at reasonable costs. For more information about specific advantages of locating in Yazoo County, contact the Yazoo Chamber of Commerce, Yazoo City, Mississippi.

In Youth Is The Promise Of The Future

The future of our community is in the hands of our young citizens. And, fortunately, it is a future bright with promise. For our young people's character has been built from childhood on the values that really matter.

As our young graduates go out into the world, we can count on them to continue building their lives on solid values. And we can count on them to contribute to the economic resources of this great land by their newfound knowledge and their honest labor.

Best wishes from Citizens Bank.
